OSTLY GERMAN GAINS LOST IN THREE WEEKS.

...my's Sacrifice of a Million Men is Nullified by Foch's Strategy and His Masterly Tactics.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

...TH THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 13.—The situation ...ing the battle of the Avre shows a change which, for rapidity ...d extent, has rarely been approached in military history. Mar...hal's strategy and the masterly tactics have in three weeks wrested ...e Germans what required four months for them to obtain at a ...ostly estimated at from 700,000 to 1,000,000 men.

...e immediate results of the counter-offensives which will have the ...st bearing on subsequent operations are the clearing of the Chateau ...rdenois pocket, ending the menace to Epernay and Paris; the liberation ...Montdidier, ending the menace to Amiens; the freeing of the impor...ant railroad line from Paris to Chalons, and the equally impor...ant one from Paris to Amiens, restoring to the Allies means ...communication which give them enormously greater ease in future ...ovings of troops.

...e successes render impossible ...ther of the line which would ...ve the French armies of the ...st from those to the east, or a ...ge of the junction between the ...nch and British. The most dis...strous consequence to the Germans, ...ides the heavy losses they sus...ined in men and material, is the ...ilure of their plan to drive ...rough the Allied lines and the ...reby widening and joining ...ich would have threatened gen...al retreat.

The first phase of the battle of the Avre finds the French with a footing upon Thiescourt Plateau, west of Noyon, which has vital importance in future operations. The Germans must either capture at high cost, if he can, or abandon Noyon, which means the fall of Roye and Lassigny, which already are under imminent menace of capture.

The disaster which menaced Gen. Von. Hutier's army has been averted for the moment. The few narrow passages which now are open for the withdrawal of his stores are so harassed by the bombs of aviators and the fire of heavy artillery that prompt escape is impossible, rendering probable a desperate effort by the Germans to cling to their 1914 lines.

FRENCH GAIN POSTS.

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 13.—The French continued their vigorous assaults on the Thiescourt Plateau, taking two more important positions which are keys to the plateau—the Ecuvillon and St. Claude farms. The Germans are filling the numerous ravines and woods with mustard gas and keeping up a heavy machine-gun fire in trying to cling to the parts of the heights they still hold.

FRENCH OFFENSIVE MENACES LASSIGNY.

PARIS, Aug. 13.—The French resumed the offensive today between the Matz and the Oise rivers, making progress to the north and east of Cury, and thereby increasing the menace to the Germans at Lassigny, according to the War Office statement tonight. Strong enemy resistance was unavailing to stop the attackers.

MONTEVIDEO STRIKERS BATTLE WITH CAVALRY

MEAT SHIPMENTS TO ALLIES STOPPED BY PACKING-HOUSE CLOSING.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

MONTEVIDEO, Aug. 13.—Strikers, estimated to number 15,000, assembled in the Plaza Independencia late this afternoon and delivered fiery speeches, in which the President of the republic was frequently mentioned.

Cavalry attempted to disperse the gathering and was fired on by the strikers. The cavalry men returned the fire. No reports as to the number of casualties have been received.

The general strike, which has been in progress here for several days, is paralyzing commerce, especially trade by sea. Today the port workers and packing-house employees joined the strikers, resulting in the stoppage of meat shipments to Allied nations.

Numerous business houses have closed as a result of the strike. The scarcity of food supplies in the city is becoming serious.

AIR PROPAGANDA TRIP TO VIENNA A SUCCESS.

PEOPLE FOUGHT IN STREETS TO GETS ITALIAN LEAFLETS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Neutral press reports that Vienna citizens paid as high as 40 crowns for leaflets dropped by Italian aviators in their recent flight over the Austrian capital in giant Caproni planes are causing great satisfaction in Rome. An official dispatch today says the Cabinet has congratulated the air service on the feat.

The aviators reported that people in the streets of Vienna fought for possession of the leaflets, despite severe penalties against touching enemy propaganda dropped from the air.

The dispatch disclosed that one one of the Italians, Sartoni, upon being forced by motor trouble to land set, fire to his machine before surrendering.

SCHWAB TO SPEED UP EASTERN SHIPYARDS.

CALLS MEETING AT PHILADELPHIA TO TELL WESTERN EXPERIENCE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—With the view of speeding up ship construction in the East, Director-General Schwab today issued a call to eastern ship builders to meet him in conference at Philadelphia, next Tuesday.

Production in the East has lagged behind that on the Pacific Coast and Mr. Schwab proposes to give the eastern builders the benefit of what he learned on his recent trip to the west. About one-third of the ways in many of the eastern yards are not yet completed, and steps to hasten their constructions will be one of the subjects discussed.

AMELAND LOSS WAS 6 BRITISH MOTOR BOATS.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—The British Admiralty, referring to a statement of the German Admiralty with regard to the engagement off Ameland, says:

"Our losses have been correctly stated. No ship was hit or damaged in any way whatever."

The British Admiralty report of the Ameland fight said six motor boats engaged in the expedition failed to return, but that there was no other damage or any other casualties.

SCHOONER CREW WAS TWICE SUBMARINED.

GLOUCESTER (Mass.) Aug. 13.—Capt. James A. Nickerson and his crew of five men from the fishing schooner Reliance, sunk by a German raider off George's Banks on Saturday, were submarined twice.

When the Reliance was sent to the bottom they got away in a dory and early in the afternoon were picked up by the fishing schooner Kate Palmer.

That evening the submarine sank the Palmer and Capt. Nickerson and his crew again took to their dory. They rowed until Monday morning, when they were picked up by a third schooner.

EXPLANATION DEMANDED OF LENINE'S WAR THREAT

Britain Recognizes Czecho-Slovaks as Allied Nation; Bolshevik Leaders Flee from Moscow.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—The British government has issued a declaration formally recognizing the Czecho-Slovaks as an Allied nation and the three Czecho-Slovak armies as an Allied force regularly waging warfare against the Central Powers.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—It is reported from Moscow by way of Berlin that the diplomatic representatives of the Entente nations have handed a collective note to War Minister Trotzky demanding within three days an explanation of Premier Lenine's threat that Russia would declare war "against Anglo-French imperialism," the Central News states today.

ACTION OF AMERICAN AND ALLIED CONSULS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Reports through Berlin that Allied diplomats have demanded an explanation of a threat by Lenine, the Bolshevik Premier, of a declaration of war against the Allies, are assumed here to refer to the action of American and Allied consuls in calling in a body August 1 on Tchitcherin, the Foreign Commissioner at Moscow.

The consuls, after being told by Lenine that a state of war existed between Russia and the Allies, demanded an explanation from Tchitcherin. They were told that the statement was not necessarily to be interpreted as a war declaration; that it rather was a declaration of a state of defense similar to the situation existing at one time between Russia and Germany.

American Consul Poole informed the State Department of the incident in a message dated August 2 and received here six days later. He has not been heard from since.

The next word that was received from Moscow was a press report transmitted to the State Department, stating that the British and French consular officials had been placed under arrest by the Bolsheviki. The consuls later were reported released.

Since these events transpired, Lenine and Trotzky have fled to Kronstadt, according to reports from several sources. The State Department is awaiting further word from Mr. Poole with keen interest.

BOLO DENIALS BY HEARST HELD PRO-HUN CONFESSION

Attorney-General of New York Calls a Further Turn on Publisher.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Atty.-Gen. Merton E. Lewis, who disclosed Bolo Pasha's relations with William R. Hearst and Count von Bernstorff after an investigation initiated by the French government, declared yesterday that Hearst's latest admissions concerning his relations with Bolo proved Hearst's former statements on this score to be false.

"Nine months ago," said the Attorney-General, "Hearst, in a deliberately-prepared statement published in his own papers, solemnly stated that he had met Bold but once, and that at a dinner given by Bolo at Sherry's. Today, after I made public eight affidavits showing Bolo and Bernstorff had visited the Hearst home together twice, and that Bolo went there alone on at least two other occasions, Hearst comes forward and says that Bolo called twice at his home."

The Attorney-General characterized the statement as partly confession and partly denial.

LEWIS'S STATEMENT.

After disposing of the Hearst "explanation" published in the Hearst papers today, the Attorney-General issued a statement attacking Hearst. It says, in part:

"Bolo, the French traitor who sought to betray the land of his nativity to the Kaiser, who obtained $1,683,000 of German money with which to corrupt the press of France and spread the German peace propaganda among the citizens of France; Bolo, shot to death by a French firing squad after his conviction of treason to his country; Von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador to whom Bolo applied for the money, and who paid it over to Bolo to enable him to accomplish his purpose of corrupting the French press; Hearst, the friend of Von Bernstorff, to whose home Von Bernstorff paid frequent visits; Hearst, who entertained Bolo at his home; Hearst, the editor of the New York American and the New York Journal, in the columns of which newspapers the German propaganda was published almost continuously from the time the war commenced in 1914 until America declared war on Germany, in 1917; these three worthies consorting together in the home of Hearst in his apartment on Riverside drive.

"This is the picture, this is the problem, with which the people of America are called upon to deal. What do they think of it?"

HEARST'S CONFESSION.

Referring to the three-column statement published by Hearst in the New York American and Evening Journal, "explaining" his relations with Bolo Pasha and Von Bernstorff, the Attorney-General said:

"Hearst confessed that he met Von Bernstorff several times. He attempts to gloss this over by saying that he also met Jusserand and

ANGELENOS LEARN WAR DUTY WITHIN SOUND OF BIG GUNS.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS,
The Times' Own War Correspondent in France.

[SPECIAL CABLE.]

SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE, Aug. 13.—Under the shadow of the war clouds, where reach the rumble of big guns, the stalwart scions of California and other Western States are training—putting on the touches that will enable them to take their place in the titanic struggle against the Hun.

The scent of battle has increased their eagerness for the fray. Our men have transferred this sleepy village into a great military camp. Pulsing the preparations, husky westerners are everywhere. Many of them you have seen behind counters, in workshops and on the streets of Los Angeles.

They marched to camp singing and wearing red French poppies in their sombreros. Their fine appearance is remarked by French officers. They are idolized by the villagers.

Children toddle after them, lisping "Grande California," asking for chewing gum. Others now can say: "Vive Native Sons." The kids are learning fast.

The entry of our men into France and their journey to camp was triumphant. Troops arriving, festooned with flowers, is a common sight to French people, but these had traveled much farther than any others to help them win the war. This gave them unusual distinction.

These were not California's first contribution, but the arrival of a division and a part of a division now gives it a considerable contingent, which means that the Golden State soon will take a part commensurate with its greatness.

CAPTURE 600 GUNS, 28,000 PRISONERS.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—Since the Allied offensive began on the Montdidier-Amiens sector, August 8, the total captures by the French First Army and the British Fourth Army have aggregated 28,000 men and 600 guns, says Field Marshal Haig's communication from headquarters tonight.

The communication adds that Tuesday passed in comparative quiet on the battle front.

U-BOAT TORPEDOES TRANSPORT — 968 SAVED FROM PASSENGER VESSEL.

PARIS, Aug. 13.—Four hundred and forty-two men are missing as a result of the torpedoing of the French steamer Djemnah in the Mediterranean the night of July 14-15, while bound from Bizerta to Alexandria with troops on board, according to an official announcement tonight.

Four days later the French steamer Australian also was torpedoed in the Mediterranean.

Still another steamer was torpedoed, but remained afloat. The text of the communication follows:

"The steamer Djemnah, belonging to the Messageries Maritimes, proceeding from Bizerta to Alexandria with military passengers, was torpedoed and sunk the night of July 14-15. Four hundred and forty-two men are missing.

"On July 19 the Mediterranean steamer Australian, belonging to the same company, was torpedoed and sunk. Seventeen sailors were killed. Passengers to the number of 968 were saved. Three are missing.

"In the same convoy another steamer which was torpedoed was kept afloat.

"Numerous bombs were thrown at the submerged submarine."

LOS ANGELES OWNED SHIP TORPEDOED?

STEAMER ATTACKED OFF NEW JERSEY SAID TO BELONG TO LOCAL CONCERN.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The steamer Henry S. Kellogg has been torpedoed by a German submarine off the New Jersey coast, according to a report received late tonight by the Navy Department. No details were available, but it was presumed the steamer still was afloat.

The Navy Department statement follows:

"The steamer Henry S. Kellogg reported at 8 o'clock tonight that she had been torpedoed off the New Jersey coast. Whether any of her crew were killed, injured or lost, or the extent of the injury done, is not known at this late hour."

OWNED IN LOS ANGELES?

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Available shipping records do not contain the name of the Henry S. Kellogg, but there is listed a new American tanker, the Frederick R. Kellogg, 4450 tons, owned by the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Company of Los Angeles and commanded by Capt. White. She is 425 feet long with a beam of fifty-seven feet and was built at Oakland, Cal., in 1917, by the Moore & Scott Iron Works.

ALLIES HOLD ALL GAINS DESPITE COUNTER-BLOW.

Important Advances by British North of Somme Trebly Outweigh the Slight Successes of Enemy.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 13, 2:30 p.m.—Ground gained by the Allied armies in the second battle of the Somme is being held by them everywhere today, although they have been pausing for more than twenty-four hours. The harassed and disorganized forces of the enemy have launched several counter-attacks, it is true, but none of them has carried the Germans anywhere.

As a matter of fact, the small but nevertheless important local gain made by the Allies just north of the Somme River, to say nothing of other successful minor operations for improving positions, more than trebly outweigh the extremely slight gains made by the Germans at a heavy cost at two points in the line.

Strong enemy concentrations have been reported between Roye and Fouquescourt, but so far they have done nothing, if really they are there for an offensive purpose. In the northern battle area, especially in the Bray region, new enemy defensive barbed wire has been found, while earthworks are being constructed at several places back of the German line. Probably the enemy has removed much of his material, and has sent in nearly all the reinforcements he cares to risk at the present time.

Morlancourt is being heavily shelled, while the enemy, with aerial bombs, has apparently attempetd to blow up the ammunition dumps he left in his hurry to get away.

British and French guns have been busy today pounding German rear areas and the crossings over the Somme.

Enemy shells that are coming in are being fired at an extreme range, probably from well on the other side of the Somme. This is especially true of shells aimed at the districts south of the Amiens-Nesle road.

Between the Ancre and the Somme the operations of the British, which resulted in a small material advance and the capture of enemy positions, provoked only a scattered shelling from field guns.

British airplanes continued to drop tons of shells on the enemy, especially in the neighborhood of Peronne. Enemy transports are also suffering from the British bombers. One of them secured a direct hit on a transport train on the Ham-Nesle road. It is now established that a giant Gotha, with five engines, which was brought down a few nights ago near Talmas, carried a crew of nine, all of whom were killed.

SECRET ORDER CAPTURED.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Aug. 13.—A captured enemy secret order signed "Ludendorff" lays stress on the necessity of economizing men. The order asserts that the two elements essential to the future conduct of the war are to "maintain everywhere our fighting strength and the spirit of offensive."

The captured document was issued late in June.

"It is essential," says the order, "that all commanders of whatever rank, as well as all troops, should be imbued with the idea that the war cannot be won by a stubborn defense, but only by a further succession of vigorous attacks. These attacks, however, cannot lead to victory unless we adhere to and improve on the methods of warfare adopted in the recent offensives."

The order then goes on to say that everywhere under the well-tried principles of the manual of infantry training in war and the additions made by the high command, namely Von Hindenburg and Ludendorff, success had been gained at small cost. It cites as an example the operations southwest of Noyon from June 9 onward.

"Not only is there a probability of obtaining other successes by these methods, but also the situation with regard to reinforcements compels us to perfect them still further," the order continues. "It is absolutely essential that we should avoid our old fault of attacking in too dense formations, and we should reduce our casualties by every possible means. The necessity holds equally good for the defensive fronts. The divisions must do their utmost to reduce casualties to the absolute minimum by a distribution in depth and the creation of extended outpost zones."

"Notwithstanding instructions," the order points out, "too much attention still is paid to the possession of ground, the holding or retaking of portions of trenches, villages and woods, and to fighting for points where only value is that of position. Now, more than ever, divisions in the line during hostile attacks, large or small, must, if possible, employ elastic avoidance even on so-called unhealthy fronts."

The order is frank in explaining that, because of the reduced German strength, it frequently will be impossible to hold continuous trench lines, and recommends instead the creation of centers of resistance.

The document warns commanders that, should the enemy obtain a foothold within the German lines, they must consider carefully whether a counter-attack is necessary or worthy risking a large number of lives.

Another captured order informs the German regiments that they must provide their own defenses against low-flying Allied airplanes, as the German aircraft resources are so low that they cannot be expected to fight off the enemy while they are being engaged on "reconnaissance work." This order adds that complaints from units harassed by low-flying Allied planes will not be forwarded.

OUR TROOPS TWICE HURL BACK RUSH OF GERMANS.

Six Hours of Desperate Fighting Leaves Battle Line Unchanged.

BY EDWIN L. JAMES.

[ATLANTIC CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

[Copyright.]

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY, Aug. 13.—With the evident desire to maintain a front along the Vesle perhaps more for propaganda purposes than for strategical reasons the Germans yesterday launched two violent attacks against the Americans north of Fismes. One of these attacks was met by the Americans and bloody fighting followed. The net results of six hours of fighting leave the line just where it was before. One hundred and ninety-two dead Germans were counted in a small region where temporarily they forced themselves into our front line.

We launched an attack of a local nature just before dawn. Our force had moved forward about a kilometer when at 5 o'clock we met the German attack in force which, as artillery work gave evidence, had been prepared before. The two forces met and before superior numbers we retired to where we started from.

The Germans kept up their artillery work on a large scale until 10 o'clock, when they launched another attack of violent nature against our line between the Bois Du Diable and Fismette, using much gas and flame projectors. In the meantime we had gotten up reinforcements. The German onset carried them a few hundred yards inside our line, but they were repulsed with considerable losses. We maintained our lines intact.

The Germans had been ordered to retake Fismes; orders which, of course, were not carried out. Some of their snipers under cover of darkness got across the Vesle in the outskirts of the town but were exterminated by our men.

The Boche kept up a harassing artillery fire all day, which continued last night. Considerable gas was sent over. German aerial activity continues with marked effect. With apparently a limitless supply of planes they for the time have air superiority on the American Vesle front.

BIG GUNS IN DUEL.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY ON THE VESLE FRONT, Aug. 13.—The exchange of high explosive shells, shrapnel and gas projectiles on the front held by the Americans between Soissons and Rheims is taking place.

Another ineffectual stab has been made at Fismette by the Germans. This occurred last night. Today has been comparatively quiet.

The front and back areas of both sides along the Vesle are being reached by shell fire, but there has been no alteration in the line.

The Germans are digging in, but not in such a manner as to indicate an intention to remain permanently. Reports of observers show it is probably their intention to fight off the Franco-Americans only until they can consolidate their scattered organizations and make a withdrawal over the Aisne in orderly fashion.

President and Cabinet Discuss Plan for Combating U-Boat Raiders in American Waters

Submarine.

OCEAN WOLF DRAGS DOWN BIG NORWEGIAN STEAMER

American Destroyer Attacks Submersible with Depth Bombs; Boomerang Torpedo is Reported.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—German submarine raids in American waters were understood to have been discussed today at an unusually prolonged session of the Cabinet, but if any new plan for combatting this menace were formulated it was not disclosed.

The only report of the activities of the raiders reaching the Navy Department during the day told of the destruction of the Norwegian steamer Sommerstad yesterday morning, twenty-five miles southeast of Fire Island, N. Y. Capt. Hansen and his crew of thirty men were landed by a naval patrol boat which found them at sea in small boats ten hours after the steamer went down.

Destruction of the Sommerstad by a torpedo, which passed under the ship's bow and later circled and struck the vessel amidships gave rise to a suggestion that the torpedo was controlled by radio on the submarine, but this was ridiculed by naval experts. They explained that the course of a torpedo is regulated by the gyroscope, which can be so set before discharge that the weapon will describe a circle.

DONE IN PRACTICE.

This has been done time and again during torpedo practice in the American navy so as to return the weapon to the ship discharging it and it has not been an uncommon thing for torpedoes fired by German submarines to take similar courses. With the torpedo's steering gear set so the weapon will run in a circle it becomes almost doubly effective, naval officers explained, for if it misses the object when speeding on its outward course, the possibility remains that it will strike after it turns about, a possibility that is increased if the ship attacked goes full speed ahead as the Sommerstad did.

No additional reports on the depth-bomb attack by an American destroyer on a submarine off the Virginia coast have reached the Navy Department, but it now seems fairly well established that it occurred Sunday after gas from oil supposed to have been discharged from a submarine overcame six men in the Coast Guard station and lighthouse on Smith's Island, N. C., Saturday evening.

EXPERTS SKEPTICAL.

While most naval experts accept with great reservation the theory that the gas was from a submarine, Secretary Daniels said today he believed the report as given by the commandant of the Coast Guard station was correct. It was accepted by the commandant of the Sixth Naval District, who must have satisfied himself concerning it, Mr. Daniels said, before transmitting it to the department. Additional reports have been requested by the department.

So far as the Navy Department advices go there has been no information that German submarines were equipped for carrying gas for such use as was made of it on the North Carolina coast.

MISSING SAILORS SAFE.

NANTUCKET (Mass.) Aug. 13.—The crew of six men of the sword-fishing schooner Cruiser, who were thought to have lost their lives when their craft was sunk by a German submarine in George's Banks Saturday afternoon, were brought in here today. They rowed for 150 miles in their dories before they were rescued off Great Round Shoal Lightship, six miles off this island.

CREW RESCUED.

PROVINCETOWN (Mass.) Aug. 13.—The crew of seven men of the schooner Reliance, one of the fleet of fishermen sunk by a German submarine Saturday, was landed here today. The men were picked up by another fishing vessel.

WAR OFFICE STATEMENTS.

PARIS, Aug. 13.—The text of the statement issued by the War Office tonight reads:

"During the day our troops resumed their attacks in the wooded region between the Matz and the Oise. In spite of strong enemy resistance, we succeeded in making progress to the north and east of Oury. We have gained a footing in the park of Plessier de Roye and reached Belval. Farther east we have advanced our lines about two kilometers to the north of the village of Cambronne.

"Eastern theater, August 12. A Serbian assaulting detachment made a successful incursion into the enemy lines and brought back prisoners and materials. In spite of a violent wind, our aviators have used machine guns against organizations and working parties to the west of Gievgeli.

"British aviators have bombarded enemy bivouacs to the north of this locality."

Last night was without important developments on the main battle front, according to today's earlier War Office announcement.

The statement reads:

"There were no events of importance reported during the course of the night on the battle front.

"Several enemy raids in the Vosges and upper Alsace were without result."

"Aviation: On the night of August 12-13 our bombing airplanes dropped twenty-nine tons of bombs on stations and enemy establishments at Ham, Nesles, St. Quentin, Tergnier and Noyon. Fires are reported to have been seen at several places.

"On the 12th eleven German airplanes were brought down or put out of action. Four captive balloons were destroyed."

GERMAN.

BERLIN (via London) Aug. 13.—The German official communication issued today follows:

"South of Ypres early in the morning there was violent artillery fighting. Under our fire enemy attacks were unable to develop. South of Merris frequently repeated English partial attacks were repulsed. There was forefield fighting on both sides of La Basse Canal and between the Scarpe and Ancre rivers.

"On the battfield between the Ancre and the Avre the morning was quieter."

"South of the Somme the enemy attacked in the afternoon on both sides of the Roman road running from Foucancourt to Villers-Bretonneux. He was repulsed.

"North of the Amiens-Roye road we drove back strong enemy attacks in the evening. Between the Avre and the Oise there were violent attacks during the day, with partially fresh brought-up French divisions. Strong forces attacked in the morning south of the Avre, as well as between Tilloloy and north of Elincourt. They collapsed before our line. At isolated points we repulsed them by counter thrusts.

"Between Tilloloy and Canny and west and southwest of Lassigny the enemy continued his attacks late in the evening. South of Tilloloy at 5 o'clock weak forces were thrust forward from the region of the Matz. We drove the enemy back and very frequently his attacks were held up by our concentrated artillery fire.

"North and east of Flames a local undertaking was successful. It resulted in prisoners being brought in.

"Yesterday twenty-nine enemy airplanes were shot down."

BRITISH.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Aug. 13. — British troops have gained additional ground north of Roye and on the north bank of the Somme, says the official statement from Field Marshal Haig today.

The Germans last night attacked the British positions in the Merris sector, Flanders. They were repulsed. The Germans delivered a local attack near Fouquescourt, on the line between Roye and Chaulnes. It was repulsed.

The statement reads:

"On the battle front our troops effected further improvements in their positions north of Roye road and on the north bank of the Somme and captured additional prisoners.

"A local attack made by the enemy in the neighborhood of Fouquescourt was repulsed.

"We captured a few prisoners last night in patrol encounters south of the Scarpe (Arras front) and in the neighborhood of Vieux-Berquin (Flanders.)

"A hostile attack against our positions in the Merris sector was repulsed after sharp fighting."

The text of the evening communication follows:

"On the battle front except for somewhat increased hostile artillery activity the day has passed comparatively quiet. We have captured a few prisoners at different points.

"On the remainder of the British front some raiding and patrol activity is reported south of the Scarpe, east of Robecq and in the neighborhood of Vieux-Berquin.

"The number of prisoners captured by the French First Army and the British Fourth Army since the morning of the 8th inst. exceeds 28,000. Among them are 800 officers, including eight regimental commanders. In the same period these armies have taken about 600 German guns, including many guns of heavy caliber, and also several thousand machine guns and also numerous trench mortars which have not yet been counted.

"The material captured includes three complete trains and vast stocks of engineering and other stores."

The following official communication dealing with aviation was issued this evening.

"Work in the air was actively carried on in all its branches August 12. On the battle fronts our balloons were pushed forward close behind the line and sent down much useful information. Our artillery and reconnaissance machines were busily occupied all day.

"Enemy airplanes were active and there was much air fighting. Thirty hostile machines were brought down and seven driven down out of control. One German balloon was shot down in flames.

"Forty-five tons of bombs were dropped by us during the twenty-four hours, the Peronne and Cambrai stations being heavily assailed.

"Twelve of our airplanes, including one night bombing plane, are missing."

An official communication issued tonight by the air ministry says:

"On the night of August 12-13 our machines attacked a hostile airdrome and trains, anti-aircraft batteries and searchlights and other ground targets, with bombs and machine-gun fire. All our machines returned safely.

"On the 13th the hostile airdrome at Buhl was attacked. The results were not observed, owing to bad visibility.

"In the course of fighting in the air one hostile machine was brought down in flames and fell inside our lines. All our machines returned safely."

ROME, Aug. 13. — An official statement issued today at the War Office reads:

"In the upper Zebru Valley one of our patrols attacked an enemy advanced post on Height 2682, killing some of the garrison and capturing the survivors. Enemy shelters were destroyed. The patrol returned unharmed."

HEARST DENIAL AS CONFESSION.

Spring-Rice, the French and British Ambassadors.

"I wonder how friendly the French and British Ambassadors were with the editor of the New York American and the Evening Journal, who defended the sinking of the Lusitania and the murder of innocent women and children, and other noncombatants?

"It can be surmised how friendly Von Bernstorff was.

"Hearst denies, however, that Bolo Pasha and Von Bernstorff conferred with him at his home.

"Shall we accept his denial against the evidence which has been adduced?

"It is a question for the jury. Just now the public is the jury.

"I think the people will not believe a man who attempts to reverse the facts of history so often as Mr. Hearst.

"His statement today contains a striking incident. Hearst states that it was the United States government and not I who discovered that the New York Evening Mail had been bought by German gold to the amount of $1,300,000. This is an impudent and audacious falsehood.

"The facts were discovered in my office. I made them public.

"Hearst is a latter day Barnum. He believes that the public likes to be humbugged."

The Attorney-General took a fresh jab at Hearst today and sought to link him up with the Kaiser.

"In the New York World there appeared an installment of the recollections of Dr. Arthur N. Davis, generally known as the Kaiser's dentist," said the Attorney-General. "The doctor quotes the Kaiser very fully on many subjects. Speaking of Von Bernstorff, the Kaiser said:

"Von Bernstorff has been doing very good work in your country. From all I hear, he hasn't had a very easy time. The American press as a whole has been conspicuously anti-German, although I understand that one of your newspaper publishers has been friendly to us. Mr. Hearst, for example, has helped our cause very much in your country. He has been telling the truth about affairs, which is more than most of the other papers have been doing."

"The Kaiser is further quoted: 'The way the American newspapers and press of the Allied countries generally are presenting the Grecian situation to the world is absolutely false and a disgrace. They are entirely misrepresenting the facts. Mr. Hearst is the only one, as far as I can find, who has revealed the true conditions and told the truth about them. I wonder what the people have to say now that Mr. Hearst has finally exposed the whole thing.'

"It appears from the affidavits submitted to the press that the Kaiser was right. Bernstorff had been doing good work. He had been diligent in the performance of his duty. He had interviewed William Randolph Hearst on numerous occasions. He had spent hours with him at Hearst's apartment on Riverside drive. The results of Count von Bernstorff's work were not only apparent to the American people but must have been communicated by the German Ambassador to his master in Berlin."

SAN FRANCISCO CLUBS DROP HEARST'S PAPER.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13.—The University Club has dropped the San Francisco Examiner from its subscription list. Similar action was taken by the Engineers' Club, with headquarters at No. 57 Post street.

It is generally understood that the cause of this action on the part of the University Club was the alleged disloyalty of the Hearst publications. And it is known that representations on this point were made by certain members to the directorate.

No official statement to that effect has, however, been made by any officer of the club, and it is officially stated that the San Francisco Examiner is the only Hearst publication that has been dropped.

The club has a membership of more than 700 university graduates and is one of the leading university clubs in America. The Engineers' Club is also a body highly representative of the professions to which its members belong.

COL. RANDOLPH QUITS THE ARIZONA EASTERN.

TUCSON (Ariz.) Aug. 13.—Announcement that Col. Epes Randolph would retire as the operating head of the Arizona Eastern Railroad under Federal management was made at the offices of the company here today.

Col. Randolph will remain as president of the company. The headquarters will be retained at Tucson, but the accounting and treasury departments will be removed to San Francisco.

Col. Randolph will continue to direct the Southern Pacific of Mexico, other Southern Pacific subsidiaries of which he is the head, and will retain the general offices of these corporations in Tucson.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wallace of Orange, wounded in Allied drive in France.

FORMER POMONA BOY IS AMONG WOUNDED.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

POMONA, Aug. 13. — Maurice Proctor, former well-known Pomona boy, is reported among the wounded soldiers in France. In the casualty list he is reported in the class of those the extent of whose wounds is undetermined. The father was a well-known building contractor in this city. A short time before the entrance of America into the war the family moved to Ottumwa, Iowa, and it was from there that young Proctor enlisted. He had been in France but a few weeks when he was sent into the front line. Anxiety is felt among the many friends here over the fact that the extent of the injuries is unknown.

REDLANDS BOY SHOT FLYING IN FRANCE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Aug. 3.—Mrs. L. Herold of Crafton received word today that her son, Lieut. Armin F. Herold, in the aviation service and flying in France, had been wounded while making a flight. An explosive bullet shot away a part of his right foot. He is now in ar base hospital wanting for the injury to heal so that three of the toes of the foot can be amputated.

Herold was ordered out as an observer with a pilot to make a flight over the Boche lines. It was hazy, and in order to see the pilot was forced to descend to 600 feet. They ran into a six-gun machine-gun nest.

OUR FIRST MARINE IS WOUNDED IN FRANCE.

Charles E. Brown, the first Los Angeles man to enlist in the marines at the outbreak of the war, and whose mother, Mrs. C. E. Brown, No. 1133 Fresno street, is said to have displayed the first service flag here, lost two fingers of his right hand in the fighting in France during July, according to word received here yesterday.

This is the second time that Brown has been wounded. The first time he was slightly injured by flying shrapnel, which gashed his leg between the knee and the ankle.

Advertising Medium.

The enormous volume of advertising printed in The Times on Sunday, August 11, 1918, is indicative of the unabated confidence of local advertisers in the result-getting qualities of The Times' advertising columns.

Of a total of 17,299 inches of paid display and classified advertising printed in the Los Angeles newspapers last Sunday, The Times alone printed 9111 inches, which is 923 inches in excess of the total volume printed in the other two local newspapers combined.

The following is the local advertising record for Sunday, August 11, 1918:

TOTAL ADVERTISING
THE TIMES ..... 9,111 inches
Second newspaper .... 4,745 "
Third newspaper .... 3,423 "

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING
THE TIMES ..... 2,861 inches
Second newspaper .... 1,274 "
Third newspaper .... 475 "

The year-in-and-year-out preference of experienced advertisers for The Times as an advertising medium is due to the fact that this superb newspaper is unrivaled as a reliable and consistent business producer for its patrons.

TO UNIFY LAWS.

National Conference on Uniform Statutes in the Various States.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CLEVELAND, Aug. 13. — The newest thing is a plan to conserve the mental energies of lawyers. Such might be termed the object of a big conference on uniform State laws, in this city, August 22. Commissioners will be present from every State. One of the hardest questions the commissioners have to tackle is the uniform divorce law. To date, only two States have been fit to adopt it. Uniform laws on business measures have had better luck. Fifty States and Territories now have the same negotiable instruments act; forty-one States have the same warehouse receipts act and twenty-two have the same act on bills of lading. But only two States agree on a marriage license act, while five have agreed on a cold-storage law.

No two States have been able to get anything near together on a uniform law on weights and measures. Lawyers say there is as wide diversity in State laws and court interpretations of them as once existed in the gauge of railroads.

Ideal Crusaders.

PERSHING IDOL OF DOUGHBOYS.

General Leading Army up Hill of World Democracy.

His Hospital Visits Help Surgeons Mend the Wounded.

Leader Labors to Send Men Back Home Clean.

BY CHARLES N. WHEELER.

[ATLANTIC CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

AN AMERICAN ARMY CAMP IN FRANCE, Aug. 13.—American ideals, and the defense of which threw the country into the world war, are the backbone of the American fighting men in France. Defending these ideals at any sacrifice explains why the American soldier, without regard to rank or class in civil life, becomes a crusader.

This is the substance of Gen. Pershing's estimate of the doughboys. It was expressed since the present offensive was launched and after he had in person paid his tribute on behalf of the country to many of the wounded heroes as they were shunted back from the battlefields.

The world knows Pershing, the soldier. Pershing, the man, is exceedingly interesting. The affection his troops have for him is more than the thrill born of the battlefield or mere hero worship. It is personal. To the doughboys of all ranks, the mention of the general's name evokes expressions of warm affection. It is a very devoted army the commander-in-chief is leading up the hill of world democracy.

Every doughboy feels that the general is for him. Whenever Pershing arrives at a place where there are American wounded he pays the hospital a visit though it must be brief. These visits in many cases are wonderful helps to surgeons and nurses. A handclasp and a word of commendation cause many severe hurts to mend rapidly.

HEROIC DEEDS SEEN.

Deeds of unparalleled heroism are common in this tremendous clash of blood and iron and back in the hospitals one sees the fine, naked souls appraised with ever-increasing amazement. The folks back home, as a whole, have a 4000-mile view of the inferno and cannot vision the superhuman grit required. But they would understand what stuff their sons, from all parts of America, are made of, if they could talk to them in the hospitals.

No matter how severe their hurts, all express the hope that they may get back to the front. It is this spirit that Gen. Pershing has observed in hundreds of visits to the wounded.

I saw him one night as he made one of these visits. He just had time for a handgrasp, a smile and a word of hope as he passed from cot to cot.

"General, did we take our objective?" asked one, feverishly. Another answering a question as to where he was hurt drew a quick picture word of the spot where his platoon went into a German machine-gun nest and added:

"You remember, general? It was right over there in that corner as you came over the brow of the hill."

Pershing wasn't at this point, but the boys seem to feel that he is with them wherever they are fighting.

Pershing's comment to his staff was: "The unconquerable spirit of men who fight for their ideals."

VISITS THE Y.M.C.A.

There was a little time left before leaving this town and the general hunted up the Y.M.C.A. Some 200 doughboys were in the hut. A yell went up near the door. Looking around to see what the trouble was all about, the other 190 jumped to their feet and stood at attention and then let loose a cheer that made things rattle.

The general was among his boys and the smile above the protruding chin was like a greeting from home. He told them he had just dropped in to see how they were getting along and was glad to observe that everything seemed to be in apple-pie order.

There hung on the wall of this hut, as there does in each Y.M.C.A. hut in France, a picture of Pershing and underneath the picture these words over the general's signature:

"Hardship will be your lot, but trust in God will give you comfort. Temptation will befall you, but the teaching of our Saviour will give you strength. Let your valor as a soldier and your conduct as a man be an inspiration to your comrades and an honor to your country."

Pershing's responsibility for what is done in the actual fighting is only part of his concern. Every friendly, helpful activity in France under the Red Cross, the Y.M.C.A., the Knights of Columbus, the Salvation Army, the churches, the various fraternal organizations and American civic societies have in Pershing a staunch supporter. Everything possible is being done to see that these superb young Americans who will return home some day shall go back clean.

LENINE CROWD MUST EXPLAIN.

EXPRESSES APPRECIATION.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Recognition by the British government of the Czecho-Slovak as an independent allied nation arrayed against the Central Powers follows similar action by Italy and France.

It is recalled that only recently Secretary Lansing in a statement expressed the deep sympathy with which this government viewed national aspirations of the Czecho-Slovaks and other oppressed peoples of the Austro-Hungarian empire.

When informed by the Associated Press tonight of the action of Great Britain, Prof. T. G. Masaryk, president of the Czecho-Slovak forces operating in Italy, France and Siberia, expressed his high appreciation and said it was doubly valuable since it comes after adoption of a similar course by the other two great allied powers.

Only recently Prof. Masaryk placed all the Czecho-Slovak forces under his command at the disposal of Marshal Foch. The forces in Siberia are to be aided by military expeditions now being sent to that country by the United States, Great Britain, Japan, France and China.

The Czecho-Slovaks are regarded as one of the most powerful of the disaffected peoples in Austria-Hungary. They inhabit a long stretch of territory on the southern boundary of Germany, and their representatives in the Entente capitals have contended that establishment of an independent Czecho-Slovak nation after the war would set up a barrier between Germany and Austria and dissipate the Pan-German dream of an open road from Berlin to Bagdad.

TRIUMVIRATE IN POWER.

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 13.—Because of the counter-revolutionary movement in Russia the "second Soviet congress" has placed the execution of power in the hands of a triumvirate composed of Premier Nikolai Lenine, Leon Trotzky, Minister of War, and M. Zinovieff, an associate of Lenine, according to Moscow advices to the Rheinische Westphalian Zeitung. They have given unlimited power to take all measures necessary to gain victory in the fight of the Soviet republic against its enemies. The advices add that the leaders of the Kerensky party, who had been kept under strict Soviet observation, have suddenly disappeared. It is believed in Moscow that they fled abroad.

The German newspapers show much perturbation over the situation in Russia as it affects Germany.

"Inexorable fate is driving Germany toward a fresh state of war with Russia unless a remedy shall be found at the last moment," says the Vossische Zeitung of Berlin.

The newspaper describes the German Embassy's flight from Moscow to Pskov as "a retreat from Russia," and continues:

"A nation torn asunder by a thousand conflicts and weakened by revolution and civil war has yet found the energy and enough unanimity to tear up the Brest-Litovsk peace treaty. This much is clear: The peace made at Brest-Litovsk no longer exists."

UKRAINIAN PEASANTS FIGHT DISARMAMENT.

GERMAN CAPTIVES BURIED ALIVE BY VICTORIOUS BAND.

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT

[ATLANTIC CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

[Copyright.]

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 13.—On a plea of being unable to restore any semblance of order in the country until the peasants have been wholly disarmed, Germany continues to pour troops into the Ukraine. The disarmament is being attended by considerable difficulty from the fact that the peasants operate in widely-separated bands.

The Germans are meeting resistance with executions, but they dare move only in considerable detachments, because reprisals by the peasants are terrible. It is reported that one band of peasants, after successfully resisting disarmament, buried their German captives alive.

Food is plentiful in the Ukrainian districts that have become pacific at about one-fourth Petrograd prices. Banks have reopened and have plenty of funds.

Conditions in Russia proper, however, are unimproved, and the threat of a general reign of terror deepens as the Czecho-Slovak menace draws nearer, because the Bolsheviks believe that only through terroristic measures will the tide be stemmed. Hence, executions are on the increase and the latest repressive measure is the mass arrest of Petrograd intellectuals, who are being transported to Kronstadt. Suppression of all newspapers excepting the Bolshevik is anticipated.

Any approach toward a decent living in Petrograd costs about 8000 rubles a month. The distribution of food is divided into four categories, with the intellectuals at the bottom, receiving about one-eighth of a pound of bread daily.

Finland is again assuming its high tone toward Sweden on the Alands question, saying: "Finland cannot give up the Alands, and will not be persuaded to this self-amputation. Sweden has not the slightest right to the Alands, and in only two ways can Finland be made to resign them, either through war or the decision of the great powers."

MEDITERRANEAN PEAK FLIES AMERICAN FLAG.

[ATLANTIC CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

[Copyright.]

ROME, Aug. 13.—For the first time in history the American flag has waved on the highest peak rising out of the middle of the Mediterranean, on the Gennargetu Mountains, 2000 feet high, in the center of the Island of Sardinia.

The American flag, together with the Italian, waved around the gigantic statue of the Redeemer erected on that mountain during the inauguration of the summer colony for sickly children.

The four wards of the summer colony are named after President Wilson, King Victor Emmanuel, President Poincare and King George.

Revenue.

TAX PROPOSED ON OCCUPATIONS

Professional and Business Men to Pay License.

House Committee Completes New War Funds Bill.

Measure Planned to Raise the Desired $8,000,000,000.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Proprietors of all businesses, and professional men, with only a few exceptions, will pay an annual Federal license of $10, and heads of wholesale concerns doing a yearly business of $200,000 or more will be required to pay annual fee of $25, according to a schedule inserted today in the draft of the revenue bill by the House Ways and Means Committee. Farmers, mechanics, ministers and teachers will be exempted from the $10 occupational tax, as will concerns doing an annual business of less than $2000.

Secretary McAdoo will appear before the committee tomorrow in support of the treasury plan for new excess profits and alternative war profits taxes. Members of the committee, at the close of today's session, said the bill would be ready for presentation to the House when that body reassembles Monday.

TO RAISE ALLOTMENT.

Chairman Kitchin, in announcing tonight that the bill would provide means for raising all of the $8,000,000,000 originally alloted to be raised by taxing, made the following statement:

"Today we put a 10 per cent. tax on all jewelry composed wholly or partly of platinum, in addition to the 10 per cent. manufacturers' tax on all forms of jewelry as agreed to already by the committee. We require vendors to keep a record so the government may know where all the platinum in the country is located.

"The committee adopted an occupational tax. There is no definite estimate yet as to how much it will raise in revenue. Under the plan adopted, the proprietors of any concern doing busines of $2000 a year or more will pay $10 annual tax, and wholesale concerns doing business of $200,000 or more will have to pay a tax of $25 along similar lines. This does not apply to clerks or employees of concerns, nor to salaried men. Farmers, clergymen, school teachers and mechanics also are exempted.

INCOME TAX.

"The income tax was amended so as to provide for payment in Canada, or in any foreign country, of the taxes on incomes earned in those countries by American citizens or corporations, the tax to be paid as prescribed by the laws of those countries.

"We discussed the question of allowance for depletion of oil wells, but deferred action until tomorrow.

"The committee amended the 10 per cent. tax on amounts paid for leased wires and talking circuits, the amendment exempting newspapers, press associations and periodicals, leaving the original provision standing as to everything else, including stockbrokers, leased lines and circuits.

When the committee adjourned there were pending proposals to increase the taxes on the larger personal incomes by graduating the incomes of $70,000 a year or more at still higher rates, and to increase the taxes on all estate of $1,000,000 or more."

KEARNY CAVALRY MEN TO HOLD FIELD DAY.

MANY EQUINE STUNTS TO BE ARRANGED FOR BIG CELEBRATION.

CAMP KEARNY, Aug. 13.—Cavalry "monkey drill" and Roman riding are to be features of a big cavalry field day to be held at Auxiliary Remount Depot No. 330 here on August 28, according to tentative plans drawn up by Lieut. Marion Richmond, commander of the guard detachment, and B. R. Robinson and E. S. Free of the remount Y.M.C.A.

Maj. John R. Valentine, commander of the remount division, has given his sanction to the holding of the big spectacle of army horsemanship, and much interest is being aroused among the men of the western plains, who have naturally gathered in an army branch which has to do chiefly with horses and mules.

In order to spur the entrants on, an interdetachment contest has been arranged.

The meet will open with foot races and novelty events. There will be mounted "spud" races, secue races, Roman riding, relays, mounted boxing and wrestling and a finale of bareback exhibitions by some of the best riders in the West.

George Blake, division boxing instructor, is again hard at work, this time in rounding the husky lads of the Thirty-second Infantry into fistic form. He has organized six classes of forty men each, and spends most of each day instructing in boxing and jiu-jitsu.

Three classes are taking the boxing work, and making good progress, Blake says. The other three classes are working with jiu-jitsu, but as large classes are unsatisfactory in this science, Blake is planning to split these classes into small units for individual instruction.

FIND 500 AUTOS, BUT NO BOXED SUBMARINE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Careful search of the banks of the Cowan Canal in Brooklyn tonight by Federal officers and police failed to reveal the presence of a submarine, knocked down and boxed as reported earlier in the day. They did find, however, nearly 500 boxed automobiles and quantities of packed machinery.

United States Marshal Power, who directed the search, said the material had been consigned to the late Imperial government of Russia. The automobiles, he said, would be the subject of further investigation.

FILD COAL BIN EARLY!

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13.—Albert E. Schwabacher, United States Food Administrator for California, today renewed his appeal for early buying of coal. "The demand for coal for various war industries is steadily increasing," he announced, "and a shortage in California is likely in the near future. Householders should purchase at once a supply to last them all winter."

SERVICE VS. "MAKE BELIEVE"

America said: "We will build the ships to bear our sons to the fighting lines. We will have a million men in France by early summer."

At Chateau-Thierry, at Soissons, at Fismes, the Kaiser learned that America had kept her promise.

Suppose that America had not "made good"—that her ships were still unfinished in the yards—her army still on American soil. Suppose that her promise had merely been what the Kaiser termed "American bluff." The Germans might be in Paris today.

Pretense—"make believe"—has no real part in the militant America of today. A promise is only as good as its fulfillment. The worth of a man, as of a business firm, is measured by his ability to do—by his service value. By building real service quality into every Hart Schaffner & Marx all-wool suit, into every Manhattan shirt, every Stetson hat and suit of Cooper underwear, these representative American firms are striving to live up to the true American standards. "The store with a Conscience" regards it a privilege to sell and endorse merchandise of such sterling worth.

URGES SOCIAL INSURANCE BAN.

Fickert Declares Scheme was Made in Germany.

Aspirant for Governorship is Stockton Speaker.

Digresses from I.W.W. and Similar Issues.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

STOCKTON, Aug. 13.—Digressing from I.W.W. activities and the necessity for retrenchment in State governmental expenditures, Charles M. Fickert, seeking the Republican nomination for Governor, today took up consideration of social insurance and told why he opposed it.

Made in Germany, he declared, it had not lessened the death rate in that country, but had merely served to allow the German war party to control the Socialist, without which there would have been no war. Great Britain had adopted it, he said, and the medical profession had become disorganized, voluntary thrift organizations were practically eliminated, while a large number of the poor for whom the legislation was enacted did not receive the benefits though compelled to pay the cost.

Based on an average wage of $3 a day the cost of compulsory health insurance, he said, would be $31,200,000 in California. "It would create an enormously expensive and cumbersome political machine," he added. "It would destroy the individuality and self-reliance of the workman and make him a numbered cog in a great machine, a condition the American Federation of Labor in session at St. Paul realized when it opposed it; it would cripple fraternal and trade funds, create a pauper class and set up medical examination as a condition precedent to obtaining work.

"Business men do not want it, labor does not want it, the medical profession does not want it," he summarized. "It is not merely an extension of the workmen's compensation principles. It is a Prussian plan of charity which the level-headed people of the State do not want. Wherever business men have taken the trouble to investigate its operation they have unqualifiedly opposed it."

FORM CAMP LEWIS ARTILLERY BRIGADES.

THIRTEENTH DIVISION STARTS BUILDING UNIT FOR OVERSEAS DUTY.

CAMP LEWIS (Tacoma, Wash.) Aug. 13.—Three thousand privates of the One Hundred and Sixty-sixth Depot Brigade, fit for overseas duty, were ordered transferred to the Thirteenth Division and assigned in three equal parts to the Thirty-seventh, Thirty-eighth and Thirty-ninth Field Artillery here today. The transfer marks the formal formation of the division's artillery brigade.

Lieut.-Col. Harold E. Marr will temporarily command the brigade. When displaced by an officer of higher rank, he will be in command of the Thirty-seventh Field Artillery. Lieut.-Col. Julian I. Chamberlain is to command the Thirty-eighth. The commanding officer of the Thirty-ninth has not been announced.

Commanding officers of troops stationed here in the future are expected to have the applications of 2 per cent. of the members of their command on file with the proper authorities as candidates for officers' training schools. The same percentage will be followed throughout all camps, it was said. Ten per cent. of accepted candidates are to be sent to artillery and machine-gun schools.

Civilians engaged in camp activities for different organizations, such as the Red Cross, Y.M.C.A., Knights of Columbus and Jewish Welfare, will be required to wear uniforms distinctive from those of the army, according to a memorandum from Washington posted today. Designs for the uniforms will be approved by the Secretary of War. Those without uniforms will be required to wear a brassard five inches wide between the elbow and shoulder of their civilian clothing.

ARKANSAS POLITICIAN LOSES DRAFT APPEAL.

LITTLE ROCK (Ark.) Aug. 13.—Wallace Davis, Arkansas member of the Democratic National Committee, was placed in Class 1 of the draft by a local board today after orders had been received from Gen. Crowder to reopen his case. The district appeal board granted him deferred classification after Gov. Brough had appeared in his behalf. Davis, who is 28, is the son of the late United States Senator Davis and formerly was State Attorney-General. The case had attracted wide attention and had caused the circulation of petitions asking for the removal of the district appeal board.

Urban Military —Academy—
EXCLUSIVELY FOR YOUNG BOYS

TERM OPENS SEPTEMBER 15th.

Attractively situated in the beautiful Westlake district just adjoining Westlake Park, and one of the exclusive residental sections of Los Angeles. A military school of home environment exclusively for young boys. Well equipped dormitories and open-air sleeping apartments during the entire year. A school offering exceptional advantages by constant supervision of the boy—his daily home life, school activities and at play. All kinds of outdoor athletics suitable for young boys. Parents will find just the refinements and the home supervision which will make for well trained minds and bodies.

By reason of small classes pupils receive individual attention. As a result of this greater power of concentration is developed in the boy.

MURPHY HAS A FIELD DAY.

Drives Winner in Three o the Four Events.

Poughkeepsie Reinsman is in Rare Form.

Straight Heats Feature All His Races.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13.—Tommy Murphy had a field day at the second day's races of the Grand Circuit meeting at Belmont track, the Poughkeepsie reinsman driving the winner in three of the four events on the card. The other race was won to Philadelphia horses only and went to Joker D. Lake in straight heats, the time being 2.12½ in the first two heats.

Murphy landed Chestnut Peter A. winner in the 3-year-old trot for a purse of $3000, without any trouble in straight heats. The Cossack and The Divorcee, owned by A. B. Coxe of Paoli, Pa., divided second and third money.

Murphy took the $2000 stake for 2:19 pacers in straight heats with Direct Line, who stepped the fastest mile of the day, 2:05½, in the second heat. Murphy's third victory was in the 2:13 trot, which went to Alan Watts in straight heats.

The summary:

Three-year trot, two in three heats, purse $3000:

Chestnut Peter (Murphy)	1	1	1
The Cossack (Fitzsan)	2	2	2
The Divorcee (Berry)	3	3	3
Miss Black (Lee)	4	4	4
Trotting (Cox)	5	5	5

SHE THOUGHT HER TIME HAD COME

Mrs. Haas Had Awful Smothering Spells.

Takes Tanlac and Overcomes Her Troubles.

Makes Statement for Benefit of Others.

"I am just so glad to see how perfectly my health is being restored, that I feel like telling everybody about Tanlac," said Mrs. Lena Haas, in an interview at her residence, 1326 Court street, Alameda, recently.

"I have suffered from nervous indigestion and other complications for more than a year," Mrs. Haas continued, "and as I kept getting worse in spite of all I could do, I became despondent, and had a feeling that nothing could help me. I had no appetite or relish for anything to eat. My food would sour soon after eating it, causing gas, pain in my chest, and smothering spells. My heart would flutter so many times I thought my time had surely come, and I was so unnerved that I was almost totally unfit for anything. I had severe headaches, pains in my shoulders and back, and would hardly sleep at all. I had gotten to where I was almost afraid to eat anything on account of the suffering it caused me, and I hardly knew which way to turn for relief. The whole system seemed to be given away.

"Then I read about Tanlac and told my husband I believed it would help me, and that I was going to try it. So I got a bottle, and that was one of the backiest days of my life. After my first bottle I found myself feeling much better. Then I got another, and have been improving all the time. My stomach has improved until I can eat and digest almost anything I want. Meats and some other things I couldn't eat before don't hurt me at all since I began taking Tanlac, and since the gas has stopped forming on my stomach my heart don't flutter like it did. I have none of that choking, suffering sensation. I sleep fine, in fact have been benefited so much that my husband has decided to take Tanlac, too, and we are both delighted over the results. Others have helped me by telling in the papers what Tanlac did for them, and now I would like to help some one else by telling what it has done for me."

Tanlac is sold in Los Angeles, Pasadena and San Diego by The Owl Drug Co., under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—[Advertisement.

TULARE SPORTSMEN OUT TO SAVE DEER.

PORTERVILLE, Aug. 13.—Sportsmen of all parts of Tulare county declare a change is needed in the deer law if these animals are to be saved from early extermination. Under the present regulations the season opens in this district August 15. It is declared the young deer are not sufficiently mature at this period of the year to take care of themselves. As a result the younger animals are slaughtered in great numbers each year.

Officials of local gun clubs state they are preparing to submit to the State Fish and Game Commission a petition for a change in the regulations.

WOMEN WILL BE HANDBALL GUESTS.

A distinct innovation will be introduced at the L.A.A.C. next Tuesday evening, when a series of special handball matches will be put on before a feminine gallery. This is the first time that the L.A.A.C. has invited the fair sex to witness an evening of pill swatting. Charles Keppen, expert extraordinary, will lecture on the fine points of the game during the contests.

HALF-MILLION MARK IS GOAL OF GOLFERS.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—Exhibition golf matches in the Western Golf Association for the benefit of the Red Cross thus far have resulted more than $200,000, Charles F. Thompson, president of the association, announced today. Mr. Thompson said he hoped the association will reach the $500,000 mark before the season ends.

INDIANS PUT BOBBY ROTH ON THE SHELF.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CLEVELAND (O.) Aug. 13.—Outfielder Bobby Roth of the Cleveland Americans has been suspended by Manager Fohl for the balance of the season because of indifferent playing. Roth did not accompany the Cleveland team east today.

THOUSANDS NEEDED TO TIDE OVER CARDS.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 13.—Officials of the St. Louis Nationals, in a circular letter sent to stockholders today, pleaded for a loan of $90,000 to meet current expenses and tide the team over for the winter. The stockholders recently subscribed $60,000 to defray expenses. Approximately $125,000 is still due Mrs. Helene H. Britton, former owner.

LONGWOOD TENNIS.

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—F. B. Alexander and R. C. Wright, former internationalists, won their first and second round matches in the national doubles lawn tennis championship tournament on the courts of the Longwood Cricket Club today. They routed only fifteen minutes between the first and the second-round matches and ran out the second one in 20 minutes, defeating J. S. Myrick, vice-president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association, and his partner, Edwin Sheafe, president of the Longwood Club.

Action.

GETTING BUSY WITH VENISON.

Twenty-eight Bucks Downed in Tejon Section Alone.

Four Hunters Already Have Their Two Limit.

Lions Busy with Fawns, Leaving Many Lone Does.

Deer hunters this season are learning in the up-coast open country how truly a bad beginning may make a good ending. Weather over the last week-end has been as if made to order for the upland rifleman's game. Mornings have been cool and foggy; the moon new and the nights dark. The opening of venison-time in the Western Sierras next Thursday, the 15th, should see a regular "drive" directed against the wild meat that raises itself on the waste places. Already the march hillward has begun.

• •

Close co-operation between patrolmen of the Fish and Game Commission and the rangers of the Forest Service has been instrumental in reducing the violations of the deer laws to the lowest level yet recorded. The laws are becoming better known, having been widely advertised.

• •

Probably more hunters availed themselves of the Tejon section for the early opening of deer season in up-coast counties than were drawn by any other equal area since August first. This country includes the mountains of the San Joaquin watershed, from the Cuyama-San Emigdio divide to Grapevine Canyon, and all the headwaters of the Piru west of the big bend. Ranger William M. Clingan at Gorman, also a deputy Fish and Game Commissioner, has kept the deer conditions under close observation this season, and reports as follows:

• •

"For a week previous to the opening of the deer season in District 3 the hunters were crowding into the most favored camping places and on the day before the opening there was an average of ten machines stopped at each of the main camps beside the occasional lone camper who was so unsociable as to pick out a lone camp and hunt his own way, instead of with the crowd.

• •

"To date I have heard of twenty-eight bucks having been killed, and undoubtedly this is not more than two-thirds of the number really taken. Of this number, I have issued affidavits to the following to transport their deer into Game District No. 4: C. B. Crinkslaw, Owensmouth; L. V. Graham, San Bernardino; W. A. Goodwin, Fullerton; A. B. Ellis, Ventura, two bucks; Ernest T. Parker, Calexico (meat to Los Angeles only,) and Floyd W. Bush, Los Angeles.

• •

"Mr. Ellis killed his limit at the Castaic mine on Piru Creek opening day; Mr. W. S. Richardson of Taft got a deer in the San Emidio country on the first, and another for his limit on the 2nd, and two other parties, I learn, got their quota for the season.

• •

"So far we have seen the horns of eleven two-pointers, three three-pointers, three-four-pointers, and one freak head with three points on each side, but with one horn only about three inches high, the other straight up, with short branches on the end.

• •

"Practically three-fourths of the deer killed so far have been found low down in the brush and the meat of most of these has fallen to the old-timers who knew the ground. Although to date there has been less than one deer taken out to the dozen hunters, it is a wonder that there are any left, and there would not be if every part of the country was as accessible to the hunters as it is to the deer.

• •

"The Forest Service lookout on Frazier Mountain had a doe and spike that kept him company all summer, but some one had nerve enough to shoot the spike almost within sight of the tower, but not enough nerve to take it away and save the meat. We did not discover it until the buzzards began to gather for the feast.

• •

"One lion was reported killed and three more shot at, beside abundance of tracks and numbers of fat does without fawns—this fact noted myself, regarding the numerous signs of lions, and that there were many fawns early, but they have gradually disappeared. One party reports finding remains of five deer carcasses, all killed by lions.

• •

"A local sportsman tells me he will give $10 for each lion killed in a certain district, provided a bounty is raised in some way that will induce trappers and hunters to clean them out, over and above the present State bounty of $20 for females and $20 for males."

HIGGINS TO STAGE GOLF FOR SCRIBES.

The largest gallery of the season is expected to turn out at Brentwood Country Club next Wednesday afternoon, when Patrick Higgins, Esq., puts on his notorious golf tournament for sporting scribes. Adjective slingers who have never grasped the business end of a club will turn out in quest of the laurels of veteran pellet chasers, who have been placed under staggering handicaps. Practically everything but a mixed foursome is included in the programme planned by Higgins.

SOUTHPAW GOLF.

A "southpaw" golf tourney is scheduled for September 10 at the North Hills (Pa.) Country Club. Left-handed players in the Philadelphia and New York districts are asked to compete.

War Veterans' Meeting.

Roosevelt Camp, No. 9, United Spanish War Veterans, and Auxiliary No. 5 will hold an open meeting Friday night at their quarters, No. 111 West Third street. A programme will be given.

To Sunday-school Workers.

Miss Margaret Slattery of New York, who is touring the country under the auspices of the War Work Council of the Young Women's Ch...tian Association, will speak at the meeting of the Grand Union of Sunday-school Workers, at 10 a.m. today, in Bareau Hall, Temple Auditorium.

In Columbus Auditorium.

Very ...ev. E. A. Pace of the Catholic Uni...ersity of Washington, will speak on "The Making of Democracy" in Columbus Auditorium this evening, under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus. Dr. Pace is well known as the editor of the Catholic Encyclopedia.

To Talk on Turkey.

Montavilla Flowers will be the speaker at the noonday luncheon tomorrow at the Union League Club. He will talk on "Turkey." Following its policy, the War Committee is having a patriotic speaker twice a week. These talks are given by well-known men who are thoroughly conversant with their subject.

Mushet to Speak.

W. C. Mushet will be the speaker at the meeting of the Half Century Association of America, Normal Hill Center, tomorrow evening at 8 p.m. The Half Century Glee Club will sing. Plans have been completed to place twelve units of men in the Imperial Valley early in September. These plans will be announced at the meeting.

Has Mail for Them.

Col. B. B. Ray, secretary of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Welfare Commission, announced last night that he holds at his office important mail from the Treasury Department addressed to Mrs. Martha Foster Ives, No. 1747 West Forty-ninth street, and Emma Van Alstyne, No. 1613½ West Thirty-ninth street.

Lecture on Italians.

A free stereopticon lecture will be given in Bereau Hall, Temple Baptist Church, tonight at 7:45 o'clock, on "The Italians in America," by Prof. Antonio Mangano of New York City. Prof. Mangano came to the United States as an immigrant boy, was befriended by a philanthropic friend in New York, enabled to graduate from Colgate University and Theological Seminary, which he did with honors. He is now superintendent of Baptist mission work among the Italians of New York and professor in Colgate University.

Countess De Bryas Due Today.

Countess Madeline de Bryas will arrive in Los Angeles by the Salt Lake route at 5:30 o'clock this evening. This word came to Lucien N. Brunswig, head of the local Committee for the Relief of Devastated France, yesterday. Countess de Bryas will speak at a patriotic gathering at the Bible Institute tomorrow night, under the auspices of Marshall Stimson, local representative of the Committee on Public Information, and the committee of which Mr. Brunswig is the head. Later she will speak at Pasadena and Long Beach, and will leave this city Friday. Because of the delayed arrival of the distinguished visitor, the time of her lecture in the auditorium of the Young Women's Christian Association has been changed from today to Friday at 3 p.m.

On Americanization Drive.

A mass meeting, under the auspices of the Woman's Committee, Councils of National and State Defense, will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in Trinity Auditorium. Most Rev. Edward J. Hanna, Archbishop of San Francisco and Salt Lake, and vice-president of the California Commission of Immigration and Housing, and Chester H. Rowell, regent of the University of California, will be the speakers. This meeting will be the opening of the State campaign on Americanization, which is to be carried on under the Immigration and Housing Commission. Mrs. Frank A. Gibson is the local commissioner. The Community Chorus of Hollywood, directed by Hugo Kirchhoffer, will sing and lead the audience in patriotic songs.

SAILOR SERIOUSLY INJURED IN PLUNGE.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, Aug. 13.—William Wrotenberg, 20 years old, of the United States Naval Reserve, was seriously injured here tonight when he struck his head on the bottom of the Long Beach bath-house plunge while diving in shallow water. The young sailor, whose home is in Selman, Tex., but who was stationed at Goat Island, was taken to the Seaside Hospital in a paralyzed condition, but Dr. V. Ray Townsend, who attended him, said he had a chance for recovery.

NAB ALLEGED DESERTER.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

FULLERTON, Aug. 13.—A party giving his name as James Haskins was arrested here today on a vagrancy charge. He had in his possession a paper containing an article which indicated that he was wanted by the military authorities for failing to register at Holbrook, Ariz. Navy officers who came here to investigate say the prisoner is not the man wanted. However, Haskins is believed to be a deserter and was turned over to the custody of the government officials, who will go further into his case.

Politics.

MOONEY CASE ROUSES NORTH.

Gov. Stephens Loses Friends by Granting Reprieve.

Business Men Disgusted with Executive's Action.

Former Judge Bordwell Back from Campaign Trip.

"I am more and more convinced as the campaign for Governor goes on that the Mooney case is developing as one of the big issues before the people," declared Judge Walter Bordwell, candidate for Republican nomination for Governor, yesterday upon his return from a trip through Ventura and Santa Barbara counties.

"Voters everywhere are telling me that Gov. Stephens's action in reprieving Mooney until after the elections has caused them to change their support to other candidates. An example of this is the case of Frank A. Miller, proprietor of the Riverside Mission Inn, who was a Stephens supporter until the Mooney decision. Now, with hundreds of others, Mr. Miller is for me.

"I found that the northern part of the State feels more strongly upon the Mooney question, if possible, than the south. Up through the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys the farmers and business men are disgusted with the Governor's action. He announced that he would require all the time from now to December 13 to consider the evidence and arguments in regard to Mooney, but that has not prevented him from spending practically all his time campaigning for re-election.

"If the Governor would spend half the time on the Mooney case that he does on making political speeches he could have had it disposed of long before the primaries."

Judge Bordwell visited Whittier, Sierra Madre, Monrovia, El Monte, Huntington Beach and other towns yesterday. Tonight he leaves for Bakersfield, where he will spend Thursday. Friday he will be at Fresno and Saturday at Tulare county cities.

Launched at Night.

SEATTLE, Aug. 13.—The 8300-ton steel steamship Westport, a commandeered Norwegian contract, was slipped into the water during the night here by the Ames Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company.

POSLAM BEST WAY TO STOP SKIN'S ITCHING

Cover the spot that itches with Poslam: relief is immediate.

When the skin is tortured, burns, presents an unsightly, broken-out surface, there is one remedy pre-eminently fitted to soothe and heal, on which you can always depend—Poslam.

Poslam is Quality—Poslam is Concentrated Healing Energy; so little does so much. Let Poslam SHOW you how excellent it is.

Sold everywhere. For free sample write to Emergency Laboratories, 243 West 47th St., New York City.

Poslam Soap is the tonic soap for the skin and will freshen and beautify your complexion.

LEMON JUICE TAKES OFF TAN

Girls! Make bleaching lotion if skin is sunburned, tanned or freckled

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle, sunburn and tan lotion and complexion beautifier at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of Orchard White for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, and see how freckles, sunburn, windburn and tan disappear, and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! Yes! It is harmless.

DROPS DEAD IN HALL.

Long Beach Man Victim of Heart Failure—Was Member of the Masons.

Arthur G. H. Palmer of No. 1217 Stratford avenue, Long Beach, dropped dead of heart failure in the hallway of a rooming-house at No. 631½ South Main street yesterday.

Palmer went to Long Beach several years ago from Silver City, N. M., where he was interested in mining. He was 50 years old and leaves a widow and a daughter 5 years old. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity, members of which will have charge of the funeral arrangements. The body is at the Bramble parlors.

Mrs. Palmer stated at Long Beach last night that her husband had been a sufferer from heart trouble for some time and that he had come to Los Angeles yesterday on business.

PLAN TO ABOLISH CITY BOARDS IS SUBMITTED.

Parks, Utilities, Public Service, Harbor, Police and Fire Commissions are Slated to Go.

Upon Mayor Woodman's suggestion, the Executive Budget Committee representing various civic and commercial bodies submitted to Mayor Rolfe yesterday a plan to abolish all city commissions and place their activities under the jurisdiction of departments having single heads.

It has been suggested by the Mayor that greater efficiency might be effected by reducing the number of commissions and appointing the head of the various departments or directors who might be removed at will by the Mayor. The plan suggested by Mr. Woodman through the Executive Budget Committee formally submitted recommended the effect that an executive commission be created. He asked the committee to work out some plan which might be submitted to the voters as the basis for a charter amendment to be placed up for consideration at the November election ballot. The plan submitted to the Mayor, it is said, will request the City Attorney to embody it in the proposed charter amendment, is to abolish the Board of Public Works, the Police Commission, the Fire Commission, the Humane Animal Commission, the Parks, libraries, recreation, civil service and municipal art. All of the activities now handled by ten boards or commissions would be placed in eight departments having single heads, as follows:

Department of supplies, purchases, standards and custodian. Department of public works, engineer, streets, waste disposal. Department of public safety, police, fire, building inspection, electrical inspection and humane treatment of animals. Department of public service, water and light and power. Department of public utilities. Department of harbors. Department of public health, sanitation, nursing and housing. Department of efficiency.

Of the Army.

WILL TRAIN HIGH SCHOOL YOUTHS TO BE OFFICERS.

Reserve Officers' Army Training Corps, a newly formed branch of the military service of the United States, will shortly open to graduates of the Los Angeles city and county high schools. Enrollment now number 1200 in the six city high schools and about 4500 in the six county high school districts. They are expected to enlist in the corps. Each county organization will be under the county superintendent of schools, Ross Keppel, chairman; Superior Judge Charles Wellborn and W. Pridham, chairman of the County Council of Defense, whose appointment was announced yesterday. The appointment was recommended by Prof. C. E. Rugh of the University of California, chairman of a State committee co-operating directly with the War Department.

Yesterday Mr. Keppel held a meeting of his associates and issued a circular letter to twenty county high school principals, asking their hearty support.

The scheme of the corps is that each member must be a college student, over 18 years of age, who shall enlist in the corps and agree to accept training to prepare him for an officer, engineer, doctor, chemist or other useful activity. He may be ordered into service or instructed to continue his studies.

Mr. Keppel said that it is essential that the youths go to college and qualify as experts, so that they may better serve their country when need arises. Organizations for the school districts will be Los Angeles city, Pasadena, Santa Monica, Alhambra, Long Beach and Pomona.

FACING ARREST, TAKES HIS LIFE.

Tragedy Ends Sensational Brown-Good Case.

Physician Drinks Poison as Officer Arrives.

Wife and "Other Woman" are Both Hysterical.

Bringing to a tragic climax the sensational case which began with his arrest last Sunday in a hotel at Santa Monica, in the company of a woman who had been employed as a nurse in his hospital, Dr. Ira E. Brown, formerly of Los Angeles, and late of Winkleman, Ariz., committed suicide yesterday evening in the home of his wife, Mrs. Ida Brown, No. 2272 West Twenty-fourth street. An officer had just arrived to take him into custody a second time.

According to the story told Detective Hamilton of the local police department, Dr. and Mrs. Brown were married in Canada twenty years ago when she was but 15 years of age. Brown, now 42, was then dying of consumption. His bride nursed him back to health and then the couple moved to Colorado, where their two children, Gertrude, 16 years old, and Myrtle, 11, were born. The married life of the couple was not happy.

Seven years ago the couple moved to Arizona, where Mrs. Brown studied to become a graduate nurse. They later acquired an interest in a private hospital at Winkleman, Ariz., and some months afterwards took over a drug store at Hayden, also in Arizona.

Two years ago Mr. and Mrs. Brown came to Los Angeles, Mrs. Brown, through efforts of her own, succeeded in earning money enough to purchase her home on West Twenty-fourth street. Last November the trouble between them came to a climax and Dr. Brown left this city to take charge of the hospital and the drug store in Arizona.

ARRESTED AT BEACH.

On June 4 of this year, Mrs. Brown's friends say, Dr. Brown, accompanied by Mrs. Pansy Good, whom Dr. Brown employed as a nurse in his hospital at Winkleman, came to California and registered in a hotel at Santa Monica as "J. E. Roberts" and "Mrs Anna Pegg." Last Sunday the two were arrested by Chief Ferguson of Santa Monica, Brown being charged with a statutory offense. His wife swore to a felony complaint on Monday.

He was placed in the County Jail on $1000 bail, which he secured through friends yesterday afternoon. Private Detective Fletcher Felts, who had been employed ten months ago by Mrs. Brown to secure data on which she might sue her husband for separate maintenance, immediately went to the Brown home, fearing that the doctor would kill his wife and then himself, as he had threatened to do, in letters written to Mrs. Brown from Arizona.

Detective Felts was backing his machine into the Brown garage, when Mrs. Brown and a friend, Mrs. A. P. Farling of No. 2155 West Twenty-ninth street, ran out of the house and told him that Dr. Brown was at the front door. The officer went around the front of the house and found Dr. Brown standing on the porch.

Dr. Brown asked to see his wife, and was told by the detective that Mrs. Brown was not at home, and also that he (Brown) was under arrest, pending an investigation by Federal authorities as to whether or not he had violated the Mann Act in bringing Mrs. Good to California from Arizona.

While Detective Felts was notifying Special Agent Webb of the Department of Justice that Brown was in custody, the arrested man slipped up the stairs of his wife's home and attempted to gain entrance to Mrs. Brown's room. Officer Felts followed him and found Mrs. Farling standing before Mrs. Brown's room to prevent the man from entering.

KILLS HIMSELF.

When the officer approached him, Brown rushed into the bathroom on the second floor, and closed the door. When Felts succeeded in opening it, he saw Brown with a small bottle raised to his mouth. Brown told the officer that he had just drunk a deadly poison, and would be dead in a few minutes. He fell to the floor.

The police were notified and Detective Hamilton rushed Brown to the Receiving Hospital. He died while Police Surgeon Dunsmoor was administering antidotes. Detective Hamilton found a small bottle in the bathroom and police surgeons say it contained prussic acid.

Mrs. Brown, who is a sufferer from heart trouble, is in a serious condition at the home of Mrs. Farling. Attending physicians say that the widow may not survive. She was hysterical last night.

A brother of Dr. Brown, S. E. Brown of No. 201 Blanche avenue, Tropico, was notified of the doctor's suicide. Funeral arrangements will be made tomorrow.

What action will be taken against Mrs. Good, who is held by Chief Ferguson of Santa Monica, and who was to appear with Dr. Brown, tomorrow for preliminary hearing, is not known, but is thought that action will be dropped because of Brown's death. Mrs. Good was likewise in a hysterical condition at the Santa Monica Beach jail last night.

GUILTY OF MURDER.

Jury Convicts Mexican on Charge of Shooting Pawnbroker at the Plaza.

Ventura Rodriguez was last night found by a jury in Judge Willis's courtroom guilty of murder in the second degree in the killing of Sol. Kinderman, a second-hand dealer, in his store at Main and Commercial streets.

After the shooting Kinderman was alleged to have escaped into Commercial street, where he barricaded himself in a Chinese rooming-house. Police officers attempted to dislodge him, and while doing so several officers were wounded by Kinderman, it was declared.

At the trial yesterday Frank Capistrano, 12 years old, a Spanish bootblack, testified that Kinderman and Rodriguez had an altercation over the payment for some purchases, following which Rodriguez drew a revolver and commenced firing at Kinderman.

POLICE MAKE RAID ON POOL HALLS.

NOW DEVOTEES OF THE CUE WILL HAVE TO EXPLAIN THEIR DRAFT STANDING.

Twenty-six cue artists, hangers-on and other gentlemen of doubtful standing under the selective service and work-or-fight regulations were gathered in by Patrolmen E. D. Brown and A. L. Waugh, yesterday, and given temporary lodgings in the City Jail, pending the disposition of their cases in the police courts and by Federal officials.

The devotees of the cushioned tables were disturbed at their placid occupations in three North Main-street pool halls and unceremoniously packed into patrol wagons. At the Central Station the men were booked as slackers, vagrants and draft evaders, and ordered held without bail.

"Pool halls are not considered essential places of amusement, and every man found lounging around them and unable to give a good account of himself and his standing in the draft will be locked up and given an opportunity to appear before a judge or exemption board," was the announcement made by the war squad officials. The prisoners are all of draft age.

FOUR-MINUTE WARNING.

Name is Copyrighted by Government and Men Designated are Regularly Enlisted.

The Committee on Public Information in Washington has sent out the following word, to be made known through the State and local headquarters of all four-minute men:

"The name 'Four-Minute Man' has been copyrighted by the national government, and no one has any right to use that term except those who are lawfully entitled thereto through the constituted authorities."

The four-minute men are regularly enlisted in the services of the United States government, and regular insignia and enrollment cards have been issued to them. The government prescribes certain requirements and until these are fulfilled no one receives the insignia. All appointments to four-minute service are made by the county chairman, confirmed by the State director, and countersigned by the national director. All persons are cautioned against using the term "four-minute man" as applied to any speaker unless he is a regular member of the four-minute men's organization.

National headquarters, further, strongly advise against children speaking in the theaters, as the messages delivered by the four-minute men are authoritative messages for the American people and too serious a matter to be placed in the hands of children.

Jury's Finding.

TWO BAKERS GUILTY OF WHEAT RULE VIOLATION.

CHARGED with having failed to use the required amount of wheat substitutes in their commercial bread, two Los Angeles bakers were found guilty yesterday by the bakers' jury in the offices of the local Food Administration.

Y. Taix, proprietor of the Parisian Bakery, No. 652 Castelar street, was the first defendant convicted. When he was offered the choice of voluntarily closing his place for two weeks and placing a sign on the door stating that he was closed for infraction of the Food Administration's regulation, or having the evidence in his case forwarded to Ralph P. Merritt, California Food Commissioner, he chose the first option. City Food Administrator Cole then ordered him to close his bakery on August 26 for two weeks. The other defendant asked for time to reach a decision, and his name is being temporarily withheld.

Lawrence Arnstein, in charge of the baking section of the Food Administration from San Francisco, acted as chairman in the cases. Both of the defendants said that it was because of ignorance that they did not observe the rules. In passing sentence, Mr. Cole stated that under no consideration would ignorance of Food Administration rules be accepted as a valid excuse for violations.

Orders were issued yesterday from the local Food Administration office forbidding hotels, boarding-houses and other public eating places from making application for canning sugar on the yellow home-canning sugar certificate slips.

"All public eating-houses must make application directly to this office for sugar to be used for canning purposes," Mr. Cole said. "Grocers are warned against selling sugar to these places and women precinct captains should not O.K. any canning certificates for them."

John Willcox, assistant to Frank H. Suffel, license commissioner of the Food Administration for Southern California, yesterday issued a request that all land owners permit tenants who are raising beets on their property to allow beef raisers to graze their stock on the beet tops after harvest, instead of plowing them under, as has been done heretofore.

Most of the land owners in making contracts with tenants raising beets specify that after the beets have been harvested the tops must be plowed under. This is done to fertilize the land. A delegation of beet and beef raisers waited on Mr. Willcox recently and stated that an acre of beet tops will fatten one beef and that the beef raisers are willing to pay $4 an acre for the privilege of grazing their stock on the beet tops. It is believed that this privilege will be granted by most of the owners of beet farms in this district, which will mean a large saving in the amount of stock feed necessary to fatten Southern California cattle for the market.

Industrial Expert.

WARNS NATION AGAINST MENACE OF SOCIALISM.

THAT the United States must be on guard against destructive Socialism and that the nation is suffering a great economic waste because of the incessant "turnover" of labor was the statement yesterday of Magnus W. Alexander, managing director of the National Conference Board, and consulting engineer of the General Electric Company. Mr. Alexander is making a hurried visit to various points in California in an endeavor to meet leading men in industrial and financial lines. He arrived in Los Angeles yesterday, accompanied by Robert Newton Lynch, secretary of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, under whose auspices he is touring the Pacific Coast.

Mr. Alexander will speak at the Chamber of Commerce this morning at 10 o'clock on "The Elements of the Labor Problem." He is considered a national authority on employment management.

The National Industrial Conference Board, which is made up of all lines of manufacture, 'propose to work out plans for advancement of industrial and financial conditions, and to look ahead for the "after-the-war" commerce.

While here Mr. Alexander intends to meet and talk with leading financial and industrial men, and will hold several conferences. One of these will be at Del Monte on Friday.

"The first concern of the American nation," said Mr. Alexander, "is the elimination of strikes and the increase of individual production."

Mr. Alexander declared that the nation must prepare now, before the war ends, to prevent it from plunging into socialistic destruction. "Socialism," he says, "works out beautifully only in theory."

The government's plan to lay the foundation for prevention of strikes, he says, is in the standardization of wages, the classifying of positions and the stabilization of employment. He says that the important factor of individual endeavor must not be lost sight of, else the nation will plunge headlong into socialistic destruction.

Demands Refused.

STRIKE OF ICE-WAGON DRIVERS A PROBABILITY.

REFUSAL of the ice manufacturers to meet the demands of unionized ice-wagon drivers is likely to result in a strike before the end of the week. The drivers held a secret meeting last night to consider the issuance of an ultimatum to the ice men.

J. O. Cashin of the National Ice and Cold Storage Company says he would not be surprised if the drivers strike, but he does not look for action today or tomorrow. D. H. Fry, superintendent of the Union Ice Company, admits that labor trouble seems unavoidable, but declares that the company is treating the drivers as well as it possibly can under the circumstances.

The drivers are now getting $110 per month. The ice men say they think the men are satisfied with this, but that they insist upon an eight or nine-hour day, whereas it takes a driver about twelve hours to cover his route in the summer.

"In the winter our men frequently come in at noon, or 2 o'clock, put their teams away and go home, because there is nothing to do," said Mr. Cashin. "Having the union idea pretty well developed, they still want a soft snap in the winter, but demand that we establish a short day and pay overtime for longer hours in the summer. This demand we cannot meet."

Potential.

ROSSETER SEES WORLD PORT IN MAKING HERE.

Shipping Board Chief Assures a Dry Dock at Harbor; Three Sites Considered; Conference Today.

"LOS ANGELES has a wonderful harbor, efficient shipbuilding plants, splendid docks and warehouses and every natural facility to become a world port. It is entirely up to her people to develop the necessary business."

This was the message delivered to business men yesterday by J. H. Rosseter, director of operations of the United States Shipping Board, after he had finished a tour of the harbor.

Mr. Rosseter came here primarily as a member of the Shipping Board's Committee on Port and Harbor Facilities, and as a member of that commission he made the welcome announcement that Los Angeles is to have a government dry dock at once. The object of the trip was to decide where to advise the government to build this dock. The structure will cost $1,000,000, will be built of steel and concrete, and be a floating dry dock, built on pontoons, capable of docking vessels of 10,000 tons. The dock should be in operation within nine months after the day the government gives word to go ahead, and will, when in operation, employ 1200 men.

TO CONFER TODAY.

Mr. Rosseter will be at the offices of the harbor commissioners at the City Hall at 9:30 o'clock this morning to meet those interested in advising him as to the best site for the proposed dry dock and he also will be prepared to consider questions of other facilities of the port—the building of coal pockets, of outfitting and trackage arrangements, and all matters in connection with the operation of vessels in and out of the harbor. Mr. Rosseter will at this time receive detailed maps and reports of the three principal proposed sites for the floating dry dock. At 11:30 Mr. Rosseter will confer with all business men who are interested in the subject of the development of foreign trade, over which Mr. Rosseter is enthusiastic.

"Foreign trade is to be the one big thing that is coming to America after the war," said Mr. Rosseter yesterday during his tour of inspection, "and how much of this trade comes to the port of Los Angeles will depend largely upon the spirit your merchants show. You have the facilities. The government can send ships here, but to get the business here to fill these warehouses and these ships will take the combined energy and enthusiasm of your people."

PROPOSED SITES.

The three principal sites proposed for the dry dock are:

(1.) West basin site, at the plant of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company. This is the site favored by Capt. Poundstone of the Submarine Base, city and local government harbor experts. The government has appropriated $264,000 for the dredging of the channel affording an entrance to this dock site, and a dock 120 feet by 600 feet can be built here with a depth of water of sixty feet.

(2.) Site at Southwestern Shipbuilding Company property at Terminal Island, described as Pacific Wharf and Storage Company property. D. Hollywood, manager of the Southwestern company, will submit detailed plans to Mr. Rosseter this morning of this site. To those familiar with the property the site of the burned wharf is proposed for the dry dock.

(3.) Site running from Submarine Base to land's end of breakwater. Not generally favored, except in case the government desires a site not connected with shipbuilding yards. In case the government makes this stipulation, Traffic Manager C. H. Matson of the Harbor Commission said the west basin site could be utilized by simply taking an adjoining site instead of the one directly connected with the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company property.

Mr. Rosseter will hear all of the arguments in connection with the site question and forward his report and recommendation to E. F. Carry, chairman of the Port and Harbors Facilities Committee of the Shipping Board. The final decision rests with Mr. Carry and the announcement will probably be made by him in Washington at once.

TOURS HARBOR.

Personally, the visit of Mr. Rosseter was like an old home week reception to him, for he has often been here in connection with shipping business. He was met at the Southern Pacific station at 10:15 o'clock by Mayor Woodman, Watt Moreland, vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, Secretary Wiggin and other members, and prominent ship shipping and railroad men. The party was taken in automobiles direct to the harbor, where were visited in turn the plants of the National Engineering Corporation, which it outfitting the wooden vessels San Diego and Catawba. The Fulton and Chandler yards were next visited, then the docks used by the Pacific Steamship Company, the party arriving at the noon hour at the plant of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, where Mr. Rosseter, accompanied by Fred A. Gardner, superintendent, F. G. Phillips, comptroller, and other officials, Mr. Rosseter made an inspection of the steamer West Galloch, saw the others on the ways and made a complete tour of the yards. Lunch was served at the

HALT OPENING OF BROADWAY.

Capital Issues Committee Disapproves Project.

Refuses to Indorse Bonds for Big Improvement.

Says It's not Compatible with Public Interest.

The Capital Issues Committee has failed to approve the opening of the Broadway project. Advice to this effect was received yesterday at the office of the City Attorney.

The proposition has been under discussion for several years, and it had advanced to the point where the city was ready to offer for sale an issue of bonds with which to finance the improvement. The opening of Broadway from Tenth to Pico street was contemplated. It involved the proposed expenditure of $1,210,-028.

In notifying the city that it could not approve the project, Henry C. Flower, acting chairman, stated in his letter:

"The Capital Issues Committee has investigated the issue of securities in connection with the Broadway opening proposition and has determined that their sale or offer for sale at this time is not compatible with the national interest."

Jesse Stephens, acting City Attorney, stated that the project has so many angles that he did not feel qualified to comment upon the decision offhand, but remarked that he thought the proceedings will probably remain in statu quo.

"It is my opinion that, in order to keep money in circulation and avoid business stagnation, we ought not to curtail too many public improvements.

"We cannot buy Liberty Bonds and give liberally to the Red Cross and other war activities unless we, as a people, have money constantly flowing into our pockets. The arteries of commercial and industrial life must be kept in a healthy condition. There is no shortage of labor in Los Angeles."

INQUIRE INTO MILK COMBINE.

Grand Jury to Investigate Alleged Trust to Boost Prices.

There will be placed before the grand jury today, it is understood, charges that a trust is boosting the price of milk. It is claimed that an attempt is being made by the trust to freeze out small dealers. Recently milk dealers have been interviewed by investigators and it is believed that evidence has been obtained showing that a combine existed.

Some time ago the grand jury investigated the charge that small dealers were prevented from obtaining milk from outside sources which had the effect of shortening the local milk supply. The city authorities sent their milk inspectors to outside dairies to lift the blockage, if it existed.

RELEASED ON BAIL ON ABDUCTION CHARGE.

Charged with inducing Lillian Van, 18 years old, an Indian student at the Sherman Institute in Riverside, to come to Los Angeles to live, James Macfarlane, aged 30, was release, on $2000 bail by Judge Reeve yesterday, pending his preliminary examination on Friday.

Macfarlane was arrested in Boyle Heights by Deputy Sheriffs Wright and Strong. The complaint was sworn to by a superintendent of the woman's department of the institute.

Unpopular.

UNION SCHEME FALLING DOWN.

Street Railway's Employees Remain Loyal.

Company's Assistant Manager Issues Statement.

Movement by Outsiders is Held Ill-timed.

A statement dealing with the outside effort to unionize the motormen and conductors of the Los Angeles Railway was issued last night by G. M. Kuhrts, assistant general manager of the railway company. Mr. Kuhrts declared that fewer than 5 per cent. of the men, mostly new employees, had been induced to look with favor on the unionizing attempt. The great majority of the men, he said, regard the movement as ill-timed and are cheerfully cooperating with the company in its present policies.

The statement is as follows:

The effort to unionize the motormen and conductors of the Los Angeles Railway gives promise of being a failure. In spite of the activity of the agitators, fewer than 5 per cent. of the men have been induced to apply for membership. Practically all of these are young men who have been in the service but a short time, most of them a few weeks only.

It is significant that the movement is in the hands of individuals who come from another city and residents of Los Angeles who are not connected with any street railway. Types of this class are found in Hans Schmidt, who runs a poolroom at Avenue 28 and Idell street, and Gus Kuentz, who advertises himself as a member of the Boilermakers' Union for fourteen years.

Most of the employees regard the effort to unionize as ill-timed. They realize that the company is engaged in a strenuous attempt to install economies in operation that will enable it to cope with the situation forced upon it by the greatly-increased cost of material used in construction and the necessity of raising wages to the extent of over $1,000,000 a year.

Most of them are cheerfully cooperating with the company in making the "skip-stop" a success. In the inauguration of "turn-backs" and other changes in operation that will result in a saving of expense without impairing the service the same spirit of co-operation undoubtedly will be exhibited.

They understand that the company is determined to exhaust all efforts to reduce expenses to the point where they will not continue to exceed income before approaching the subject of increased fares.

Except for the insignificant number of men who have been cajoled into enrolling their names as members of an organization the tendency of which will be to hamper the railway in its efforts to maintain reasonable service without resorting to increased fares, the management has every reason to believe that the carmen will remain loyal to the people of Los Angeles and to the company.

Whatever the outcome of the present situation, in the end it is the people who will have to meet it. Whether a street railway is privately or publicly owned, there can be no money on which to draw to provide for the expense of maintaining service except that derived from fares. When expenses exceed the amount of fares received one of three things is inevitable—expenses must be reduced, fares must be increased, or, if the railway is publicly owned, the people must tax themselves to make up the deficit.

The street railway employees already are organized into a strong co-operative association. Through this association representatives of the employees and of the company have monthly meetings, at which suggestions from the men are carefully considered and action agreed upon.

The present movement apparently is intended to break up this association. Among the older men in the service there is a growing belief that it is also an effort to create a club to hold over the railway by formulating and presenting demands that cannot be met in these strenuous times, if the company is to continue to render reasonable service.

WOMAN DENIES INTOXICATION.

Fair Motorist Figures in Collision; Arrested; Freed on Bail.

Following a slight accident, in which she is alleged to have hit another automobile near Seventh and Main streets, a woman giving the name of Mrs. George Gardner was arrested by Crossing Officer Dunn and taken to the Police Station charged with being intoxicated. She later was released on bail furnished by friends, and was taken to her home.

The woman denied the charge, explaining she was just recovering from a serious operation, and was on the verge of a nervous breakdown when arrested. She said she was on her way home from a hospital when the accident occurred.

JURY BREAKS WILL.

Find Man was of Unsound Mind When He Executed Document Leaving Estate to Wife.

The will of Andrew H. Holloway, who died in Pasadena November 20, 1917, leaving his $86,000 estate to his widow, Annie Holloway, was broken by a jury in Judge Houser's court yesterday. His sisters, Frances Ellen Parker and Emma Jane Holloway, filed a contest, charging that at the time the will was executed their brother was of unsound mind. The jury found that he was not of sound mind, and further that the will was not properly executed.

SERVICES HELD FOR LATE W. J. BALLARD.

MAGNIFICENT FLORAL PIECES SENT BY FRIENDS OF THE LATE STATISTICIAN.

Funeral services for the late Walter J. Ballard, the nationally-known authority on corporation finance and statistics, who died Monday morning at his home, No. 637 South Burlington avenue, were held yesterday from the chapel of Bresee Brothers. The funeral was simple and attended only by a few intimate friends and relatives. Many others, however, paid tribute with magnificent floral pieces.

Honor was paid to the memory of Mr. Ballard by the presence of Consul U. Oyama of Japan, the deceased having been a member of the Imperial Order of the Rising Sun, conferred on him by the Emperor of Japan in 1908. In addition, Rt. Rev. Joseph H. Johnson, bishop of the Episcopal Church, attended the services, which were conducted by Rev. John Mundy of St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral, of which Mr. Ballard was a member.

The active pallbearers were G. G. Johnson, W. L. Percy, W. A. Brackenridge, Harry E. Andrews, Louis F. Vetter and John F. Salyer. Interment was at Hollywood Cemetery.

RED CROSS AFFAIRS

Guests at the Red Cross "Adobe Inn" will be entertained tomorrow afternoon with a four-minute speaker and a talk by Beulah M. Anderson on "Your Individual Relationship to the Red Cross." A interesting programme including numbers by Davis & Smallman of the Orpheum Circuit; Mme. Selnike, pianiste; little Georgia French, film player, and Billy Fowler, will also be presented. The hostess for the day, Mrs. J. W. Alexander, will be assisted by Mrs. Harley G. Corwin.

For Ambulance Fund.

An entertainment and card party will be given by South Gate Chapter, No. 133, Order of the Eastern Star, for the Red Cross ambulance fund this evening at South Gate Masonic Temple, Thirty-third and Main streets. The committee in charge of the affair is composed of Mrs. Elizabeth Wheeler, Past Grand Worthy Matron; Mrs. Virginia Coate, Past Associate Grand Worthy Matron; Mrs. Minnie P. Tipton, Past Grand Royal Matron; Maud Bradley, Ella I. Mitchell, Alice R. Smith, Millie R. Binz, Maud Gentry, Eva Erway, Rose Riggle, Mildred M. Strait, Anna McCreer and Carrie Sautter.

Won't Take Them Now.

Because of the proposed extension of the Selective Service Act, commonly known as the draft, to include men between the ages of 18 and 21 years and 31 and 45 years, the bureau of personnel, American Red Cross, will not accept applications from men within these age limits until after their classification under said new draft has been determined. However, the Red Cross will accept qualified workers for overseas service between the ages of 21 and 31 years who are not in class 1 of the selective service, and who bring a permit from the local board, addressed to the State Department, stating, in the phraseology of section 156 of the selective service regulations, that the board has examined the case and has no objection to the issuance of a passport.

Need Dentists.

Dentists for immediate service abroad are needed by the Red Cross. Information and applications may be obtained at the bureau of personnel, Red Cross headquarters, Tenth and Main streets.

Plea.

ASKS INCREASE IN GAS RATES.

Los Angeles Concern Appeals to Railroad Board.

Declare Cost of Making Fuel has Soared Greatly.

Last of the Big Companies to Take this Action.

Attorney Paul J. Overton, general counsel for the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation yesterday presented an application before the State Railroad Commission in San Francisco, asking for an increase in the rates charged for gas in Los Angeles. In the plea that the local corporation be granted permission to increase its rates, Attorney Overton said that his corporation is the last of the larger companies in this State to make such a request and that it is based upon conditions produced by the war. He said the directors of the corporation have opposed any increase for the past year even when the need for such a move was made manifest by the high cost of products necessary to the manufacture of gas.

When the Railroad Commission granted increases in the rate charged for gas in almost every other section of the State the local corporation in Los Angeles was forced to take action in order to meet competition, he said.

"Our corporation is the last of the big concerns to ask for an increase in gas rates," said Vice-President Charles A. Luckenbach last night. "This move has been taken after careful consideration of the conditions governing fuel and is an absolute necessity. We had hoped that conditions might so frame themselves that such action would not be necessary, but we were forced to make the application at this time in order to meet the high cost of maintenance.

"The application is filed as a last expedient in order to keep ourselves on an equal basis with the high cost of operation. We have made this move with the full knowledge that the high cost of living is one of the serious conditions we all must face and we have only asked for such an increase as will keep us a working corporation which is endeavoring to serve the public in the best possible manner."

LOS ANGELES COUPLES MARRIED IN NORTH.

Two Los Angeles couples were married in Santa Barbara yesterday. They were Harold J. Maxwell, 26 years old, and I. Margaret Spinner, 22 years old, of Oklahoma City, Okla.; Otis Glenn Smith, 35 years old, and Miss Maude Boyle, 33 years old, of this city. Both couples were married by Rev. A. J. Hughes of Grace M. E. Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell will reside at No. 1742 West Forty-eighth street and Mr. and Mrs. Smith will live at No. 900½ East Twenty-seventh street, this city.

LONE BANDIT'S LOOT OVER TWO THOUSAND.

CASH, CHECKS, BONDS TAKEN IN BURGLARY OF MARKET STALLS.

A complete checking up by the detectives yesterday of the wholesale burglary of the market stalls at East Ninth, San Pedro and San Julian streets brought the total of victims to fifteen and the loot obtained by the lone bandit to more than $2000, the police declare.

The burglary is said by the police to have been one of the most daring and unusual in their experience. The bandit, armed with two guns, made his way from stall to stall, just before sunrise, working with great speed and considerable noise, while hundreds of Japanese farmers and attendants at the market were getting ready for the day's business. He forced open several safes, chopping off the combination knobs with a heavy hammer, and rifled the cash registers.

Wong Goon, an employee in one of the stalls, was forced, at the point of a revolver, to back into the street when he discovered the bandit at work in one of the stores. While Goon was looking for the telephone the bandit escaped.

The firms robbed, Detective Sergeants Beaumont and Roberts report, follow:

M. Wakamatsu, No. 901-3 South San Pedro street, $20; San Pedro Produce Company, $10; Zaferis Brothers, $400 cash and checks; William Pullsevich, $10; Piper Fruit Company, valuable papers out of safe; Louie Tin Company, $600 in cash, checks and jewelry, thirty shares of stock in the Chinese Mail Steamship Company; J. P. Milloglad, $170 cash and Liberty Bonds; Sing Lim Company, $10; Ho Lee Company, H. H. Albachten Company, Ty Lung, B. H. Griffin, M. Pollock Tong Produce Company, various sums.

Shortly before the bandit held up Goon, the man was seen by some of the farmers passing from stall to stall. They notified Watchman S. N. Foot. The bandit's flashlight rays were seen by the searchers, but the man escaped before he could be located.

FOR WINTER VISITORS.

Santa Monica Beach Association Plans Vigorous Campaign of Publicity.

At a luncheon of the nonresident branch of the Santa Monica Beach Association, to be held in the association's headquarters in the Lankershim Hotel today, plans will be discussed for an extensive advertising campaign for winter visitors and residents at the beach city.

A meeting of the president and directors of the nonresident branch was held on Monday in the offices of the R. C. Gillis Realty Company in the Los Angeles Investment Building. The meeting was presided over by C. L. Bundy, vice-president. Plans were discussed for closer relations with influential organizations interested in the development of Southern California, such as the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, Hotel Men's Association, the Automobile Association and other bodies.

"—my wife would be helpless—

The thoughtful business man who made the foregoing statement lived a long time afterwards, with his mind at ease. He knew that his family's business interests, in the event of his death, would be safeguarded by this large, responsible and experienced Trust Company, under his Will and the Trusteeship he had so wisely created.

Dr. Robert Freeman, just returned from France, will give an address; the Zoellner Quartette will provide music, Mrs. Blanch Harriman will sing, and Mrs. Henry Henderson will give dramatic readings. There will be dancing in the evening.

A Farewell Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Macdonald of West Adams street entertained with a farewell dinner in honor of Miss Constance Crawley last evening. Miss Crawley leaves for San Francisco this week, breaking her journey with a three days' visit to Santa Barbara, where she will be the guest of Mrs. Ritchie. Mrs. John Kahn is also giving a dinner in honor of Miss Crawley this evening.

A Yachting Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Merritt are enjoying yachting cruises, with Catalina Island as their home port. Last week-end they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Gaylord (Mrs. Gaylord is Mrs. Merritt's sister,) and a merry party of guests from the island were entertained.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Connell are spending a vacation at Catalina Island, and so is Mrs. Modini Wood. Charles Henderson is among a merry party intent upon christening the new Hotel St. Catherine in proper style, and they certainly stirred up some fun on Saturday evening, when everyone instead upon singing everything they knew until past midnight.

At the British Ambulance.

Several hostesses will collaborate to make Thursday afternoon a social rendezvous at the British Ambulance Society headquarters at Hotel Westminster. Mrs. Donald Macdonald, Mrs. Anne Tennyson, Miss Ann Kroman, Mrs. Reginald Jones, Mrs. Margaret Ham, Mrs. John S. Kilbly, Miss Peggy Firestone, Miss Helen Wilson and Miss Kathleen Fitz will dispense hospitality, and the programme includes a piece de resistance in the celebrated person of Percy Haswell (Mrs. George Fawcett,) who will give some of her famous Shakespearean readings. The pretty Miss Eliza Baumgarten will also contribute some soprano solos. And Mrs. H. S. Caystile, the quite alarmingly clever palmist, will also be in attendance.

For the Arcadia Students.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Collier, Mrs. Bevan Cooper, Miss Antionette Sable and Miss Rosemary Bevan, the talented violinist, provided a delightful concert on Monday evening out at the Arcadia Balloon School, under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. Miss Bevan, who played several numbers, received an enthusiastic ovation from the boys. Mr. Collier sang, and Leslie Henry made a brief patriotic address.

Des Moines Visitors.

IS DEPUTY TREASURER.

Lafayette D. White of Alhambra Appointed for County After Examination.

The appointment of Lafayette D. White of Alhambra as Chief Deputy County Treasurer was announced yesterday by County Treasurer Hunt. The appointment was made on the recommendation of the County Civil Service Commission after Mr. White had successfully taken part in a competitive examination, in which there were about twenty candidates.

Mr. White has been a resident of Alhambra for twelve years, going there from St. Louis. For the last five years he has been Treasurer, Tax Collector and Assessor for that city. He is 41 years of age. He is to enter upon his new work not later than the first of the month.

MARRIAGE NOW OUT.

Couple go to Santa Ana as Friends, Return Man and Wife; Honeymoon Next Week.

Their friends are not supposed to know this yet, but last Monday Robert C. Dellenbaugh and Celia M. Tyler went to Santa Ana as friends and returned as husband and wife. Yesterday Mrs. Dellenbaugh, who has been a teacher in the public schools here, went to a vacation camp for a week's stay, and Mr. Dellenbaugh showed up at the office of Draper and Dellenbaugh as usual. His partner, W. C. Draper, had read the telltale item in the Times' Santa Ana correspondence, however, and was not deceived.

The couple will take a vacation trip next week and on their return reside at No. 219 West Forty-ninth street with the bride's aunt.

DRAMA.

Midweek.

ON STAGE AND SCREEN.

INTERESTING PICTURES AND PLAYS ON VIEW.

Clune's Auditorium.

Right in line with the wonderful opening of D. W. Griffith's "Great Love" at Clune's Auditorium, comes the news that this latest of the Griffith triumphs has made as tremendous a sensation in New York as it did in his own home city of Los Angeles. At the Strand Theater, where the picture is being shown, all records for the house were shattered with the opening yesterday. A long line formed in front of the theater at 11 o'clock and there was a continuous turning away all day. "The Great Love" showed to 24,000 persons in one day, making a world's record in the number who have seen a motion-picture production in one day, not only in the United States, but in the entire world. Incidentally, the Strand Theater seats more people than any other motion-picture theater in the world.

Orpheum.

Derwent Hall Caine, son of Hall Caine, will topline the Orpheum bill opening next Monday, and will be seen in a decidedly strong and unusual play by his eminent father called "The Iron Hand." This is the only one-act play ever written by Hall Caine, and he did it in the fullness of his heart after seeing with his own eyes the character of the Hun oppression in Belgium. Dooley and Nelson, six-cylinder comedians, are on the new list, as are Valyda, a lovely Creole, and her Brazilian nuts in musical comedy moments, and Grace DeMar in "The Eternal Feminine." The list also includes "Camouflage," Lill Petschnikoff in a new programme, Moran and Mack and Madden and Ford.

Grauman's.

Beginning Monday, August 19, Charles Ray will appear in the latest Thomas H. Ince photoplay, "A Nine o'Clock Town," which was written and directed by Victor Schertzinger. The story is one which will doubtless appeal to every audience. The young hero, who thought he was a twelve o'clock fellow, goes to New York to make his fortune. He returns, finally, to his old home town, a wiser and a better boy. Mr. Ince himself thinks that Charles Ray's role in this photoplay is one of his best.

Clune's Broadway.

"Missing," Mrs. Humphry Ward's thrilling story, is commanding a large and appreciative patronage at Clune's Broadway. J. Stuart Blackton, with an all-star cast, has given a screen translation of the story that is altogether worthy—a production true in both episode and atmosphere. Robert Gordon, Silvia Bremer, Thomas Meighan and Ola Humphrey are cast in the leading roles and all do work of the highest merit. The support throughout is excellent and the photoplay all that can be desired.

Kinema.

Elsie Ferguson, in Robert Chambers's "The Danger Mark," has the best of her recent love stories. In this one she is loved by a fortune hunter, who induces her to elope, only to find that the tables are turned right-about-face on him. The main theme deals with an inherited taint that descends to the beautiful heiress—a taint that requires a great deal of restraint ere the girl masters and regains herself. And it all starts from a craving to steep lumps of sugar in cologne. The added attractions at the Kinema are the Pathe News Weekly, two comedies that crush ennui, and the Kinema educational.

Garrick.

Fatty Arbuckle is more than proving his ability as a funmaker at the Garrick this week in "The Cook," for he springs some new comedy stunts that cause riots of mirth. Imagine the corpulent comedian doing the Salome dance, with skillets, frying pans, cabbages, sausages and other kitchen accessories as his "props;" imagine a man of his size being hauled through the streets by a wee bit of a goat; imagine him knitting spaghetti before eating it, and you have but three of the funny stunts Fatty stages in "The Cook." Baby Marie Osborne in "Cupid by Proxy" also hands out any number of laughs as well as thrills.

Miller's.

Leave it to William Farnum to stage the hair-raising, thrilling stunts in his pictures. He seems to outdo himself in his latest production, "The Plunderer," playing at Miller's this week. The dare-devil star is cast as a hardy miner in this story of the early days, and whips a whole camp with his bare fists to remain in possession of his claim. Alice Brady will be the coming week's star at Miller's in "At the Mercy of Men," a striking melodrama of chaotic Russia. Fatty Arbuckle in "Fatty and Mabel Adrift," will be the added attraction on the coming bill.

Symphony.

"Hell Bent," proclaimed by eastern critics as the best western melodrama of the season, and starring Harry Carey and Neva Gerber, will be the coming week's feature at the Symphony. The production will be given a grand send-off Monday night by Carey and his cowboys parading through the streets with the historic old stage coach used in making the picture. Carey and Miss Gerber will make personal appearances during the week. This week Viola Dana as "Prizefight Mary" in her latest play, "Opportunity." Harold Lloyd and Bebe Daniels in "Bride and Gloom," providing both laughs and thrills.

Pantages.

It seems as though the harems of the Far East still have charms for both men and women, for "An Arabian Night," the musical comedy expose of the famous "families of wives" at Pantages this week, is proving to be irresistible to theatergoers. The act features a bevy of pretty dancing dolls, together with John Crawford and Gus Erdman, two clever comedians. Other acts on the current bill that are also above the average are Hallen and Hunter, songsters; the Misses Parker, operatic nightingales; Creighton, Belmont and Creighton in "The Middletown Minstrels in Rehearsal;" Sully, Rogers and Sully, three jolly sailors, and Davy Jamieson, who serves fun "As You Like It."

Hippodrome.

Just to show the men that they are not needed on the vaudeville stage, a quintette of women will present a headline feature at the Hippodrome next week, and call it "What Women Can Do." Harry Pearce and Frank Burke will discuss their little skit, "Have You a Match?" Edward Hill has an original idea with his "talking hats;" the Xylo Girls have made a specialty of music as it can be played upon the xylophone; Allen and Moore have some songs and patter; Paul and Pauline twist and turn on the Roman rings, and some "classy" ideas are brought along by the Ziras, jugglers, dancers, comedians and acrobats. The usual pictures will be shown.

Burbank.

Carlyle Blackwell is seen with Evelyn Greeley in a comedy of college days, "The Beloved Blackmailer," at the Burbank. The vaudeville half of the bill is topped by the English team of Joe and Vera White, clever artists, who run the gamut of vaudeville emotions. Next in importance comes Eddie Dale, whose songs and stories sound new, and are new. Marie McCourt comes along with dainty frocks and dainty songs. The Mack Sisters, two pretty misses who sing and dance, are by no means a small factor of the entertaining bill.

Morosco.

With capacity houses at every performance, the magnificent revival of Oliver Morosco's nationally famous comedy, "Upstairs and Down," at the Morosco, is this week setting a new record for this Broadway house. In production and in cast "Upstairs and Down" is one of the very best offerings of the year. Juliette Day, the exquisite little ingenue, who created the role of the baby vampire in the New York production of this play and set New York wild over night, is appearing at the Morosco here in her original role. The Morosco now has in preparation, to follow "Upstairs and Down," with Juliette Day in the leading role, the famous Madge Kennedy success, "Little Miss Brown."

Quinn's Rialto.

Romance and war, welded in a mighty prophetic cinema production, are the lines on which Metro's master drama, "To Hell with the Kaiser," has been built. This spectacular and overwhelming arraignment of Prussianism, which has to do with the love of a young American for the daughter of an American inventor, in Belin at the outset of the world war, runs parallel with the expose of the Kaiser's machinations toward the conquest of the world.

"To Hell with the Kaiser" probably will be an attraction that will be enjoyed at Quinn's Rialto for some time to come.

Palace.

Quality and quantity combine to make the Palace programme one of unusual merit this week. William S. Hart is seen in "Selfish Yates," while Charlie Chaplin appears in "The Musical Tramps." These two splendid pictures are followed by a clever Christie comedy, "Watch Your Neighbor," after which come Mack Swain and Chester Conklin in a Keystone fun film. For next week the Palace management has booked Billie Burke in "Let's Get a Divorce," and William S. Hart in "The Reformed Outlaw."

De Luxe.

"The Biggest Show on Earth," in which the popular little star from Australia, Enid Bennett, is featured, is the headliner on the De Luxe bill for tonight. Florence Vincent, who wrote the play, is a brilliant imaginative writer whose talent is well displayed in this her latest and best screen drama. Tomorrow Elsie Ferguson appears at the De Luxe in "The Doll's House," which will be held over till Friday. Saturday "Up Romance Road" will be the feature attraction, to be followed by Jack Pickford in "Mile-a-Minute Kendall."

Superba.

He mortgaged his wife. That is the outstanding point in the gripping society melodrama at the Superba this week, in which Dorothy Phillips as "the mortgaged wife" adds to her laurels of screen notoriety. A bank clerk embezzles a fortune and is detected. In desperation he mortgages his wife, who has been faithful and true to him. Then, instead of redeeming his honor and his helpmate, he turns and forgets his promises in a reckless run on the primrose path with a society siren. The outcome of this story is one of the sensations of the week. Dorothy Phillips is supported in this daring picture by William Stowell.

"FOR :: HUSBANDS :: ONLY."

Coming to Kinema Theater next Sunday.

Mildred Harris as Toni Wylde,

A young convent-bred girl who marries a man to obtain revenge—a new and pleasing role for Miss Harris.

PREPARATIONS FOR MOVIE MASKED BALL.

At first glance they look like government bonds, and it is certain they provide for big returns. The resemblance is due to the coupons. They are the tickets for the boxes at the motion-picture masked ball in Shrine Auditorium Saturday night, and each has eight coupons attached, one for each seat. For no one will be admitted to the fairyland of fun without a ticket and an invitation also.

Even the box tickets are reselling like government bonds. Another box was sold yesterday to Theda Bara. She had just sent a check for $1000 to the Motion Picture War Service Association, which is presenting the bill, for a contribution to its good work, and she followed it with a check for $100 for a box. She will occupy the box with her party, and will be masked and costumed in a most effective way.

Every one is to wear a mask. Most of the guests will be costumed, and most of the costumes will be most original. For that is the keynote of the entertainment, originality. The decorations certainly will be original—burnt orange, deep purple, mountain-haze gray, colors out of the Orient that Bakst made famous with his marvelous ecmbinations.

And the entertainment will be just as original. The number will appear between each dance. All the celebrities will do their part in these numbers, and they will introduce the delightful surprise of seeing the stars of the films in stage roles with which they are never associated in the public mind.

The decorating of the auditorium is now in progress. The big symphony orchestra has been engaged to play for the special feature and to give concert numbers. Herr Tandler will be the leader.

SOCIETY SURPRISED.

Man Who Posed as 'Ambulance Driver Just Back from France in Court on Check Charge.

J. W. Brady, who gave certain young society women a shock when he was arrested on the charge of passing fictitious checks, was given a preliminary examination before Justice Hamby yesterday and the case continued until the 28th inst.

It is alleged that Mr. Brady, formerly stationed at North Island, posed as a recently returned ambulance driver from France. He interested young women of prominence in learning how to drive an ambulance, it is said, and was arrested after a Glendale druggist, suspicious of the check he gave him, took the number of a fine automobile occupied by Mr. Brady and a society woman and learned the name of the owner.

The young woman said she knew him; that he was teaching her and other women how to drive an ambulance. Mr. Brady's defense will be, it is believed, that he has a sick wife and had to have cash.

CRUCIBLE CLUB MEETING.

Patriotic and political speeches featured the first public meeting of the American Crucible Club at the Catholic Hall, No. 4124 East Third street, last night. George D. Pratt was chairman. The Hall Jubilee Colored Quartette presented patriotic numbers and plantation melodies. Mrs. M. Anderson gave piano solos and Miss Christine Gunning recited a five-minute war speech. Supervisor Delorey and other candidates for office also spoke.

WOULD ADOPT MAN.

Lee L. Powers, 62 years old, who is a well-to-do merchant, wants to adopt as his son Ira Packard, 36 years old. Yesterday Mr. Powers appeared before Judge Dehy in adoption proceedings, but because of the mature age of Mr. Packard the court continued the case until today to enable Attorney Baird an opportunity to furnish authorities.

FLASHES.

Hits and Bits.

FARRAR IS INJURED.

NOTED ACTRESS-SINGER HURT IN PICTURE FIGHT.

By Grace Kingsley.

Narrowly escaping concussion of the brain, Geraldine Farrar, according to word just received from Wyoming by friends, a few days ago suffered a severe blow on the head while making scenes for her Goldwyn picture, "The Hell Cat."

Miss Farrar was working with her company on a ranch near Cody, Wyo., when the accident occurred. Thomas Santschi, playing opposite, was supposed to be trying to force an entrance to her home, and she was resisting him. In the fight, Santschi struck back at Miss Farrar, who is a powerful woman. She fell to the floor, and striking a projecting timber, was knocked unconscious, the blood streaming from the wound in her head. The nearest doctor was five miles away, and Lou Tellegen, Miss Farrar's husband, hastily summoned him. Miss Farrar remained unconscious for some time, but is now considered out of danger.

Clune's Broadway.

Gail J. Stuart Blackton as a high priest of picturedom! If they keep on giving us productions like "Missing," which is shown at Clune's Broadway this week, it won't be long before a lot of folks will be liking pictures just as much as they like the stage, and the most discriminating lovers of dramatic art will be lured to the films. For poignancy of situation, for sincerity of acting, for strength of story, for beauty of visual effect, "Missing" outclasses about three-fourths of the stage productions. James Young directed.

Moreover, "Missing" serves to introduce to us a new and telling screen personality, that of Robert Gordon, whose characterization of the young soldier husband who leaves his bride of two days to go to war, who suffers shell shock and loss of memory, reveals the deepest feeling for and understanding of dramatic values, while the work of Sylvia Bremer is almost equally effective.

Technically, the production approaches perfection. The subtitles, for instance, do not interrupt the action; they flow along with it, so that the scenes, as they are recollected, are like a continuous panorama.

GIVEN COMMISSIONS.

Six Californians Among Appointments Announced by the War Department.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Commissions were granted by the War Department today to the following:

George Adam Siegmann, No. 4557 Willowbrook avenue, Los Angeles, second lieutenant in Signal Corps; Samuel Joseph Currier, Jr., La Habra, second lieutenant in Quartermaster Corps; Bernard Anderson, Benicia Arsenal, first lieutenant in Sanitary Corps; Herald L. Herdes, Riverside; Ernest L. McQuiddy, Sonoma, and Jacob C. Knielson, Sacramento, second lieutenants, Sanitary Corps.

WEDS TELEPHONE MAN.

Sister of Late Lawrence Converse Becomes the Bride of Samuel P. Thomas.

Gertrude M. Converse of Glendora, a sister of the late Lawrence Converse, was married here yesterday to Samuel P. Thomas, a local telephone man. They are stopping at the Renault apartments, No. 520 South Flower street.

While on a filibustering trip into Mexico, Lawrence Converse, who was a law graduate, became a scout for Orozco and was imprisoned. Through his father's influence with Mexican officials he was finally released, but not until after he had fallen in love with a young woman visitor at the jail, who ultimately became his first wife.

DRUG PIONEER DEAD.

R. E. Page, 72 years old, of No. 1029 Elden avenue, died last Saturday after a year's illness. Mr. Page came to Los Angeles sixteen years ago from Nashville, Tenn., where he was in the drug business. In this city he helped to organize the Tibbets Paint Company. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Anna H. Page, and two daughters, Mrs. John W. McAlester of this city and Mrs. William T. Hall of Brentwood, Tenn. The funeral will be held today at the residence. The body will be placed in vault at the Forest Lawn Cemetery and later will be taken to Nashville to be buried. The W. A. Brown Undertaking Company are the directors.

West Galoc.

FIFTH STEEL SHIP HAS SUCCESSFUL TRIAL TRIP.

AFTER a successful trial trip yesterday the new steamer, West Galoc, formerly the West Galeta, built at the yards of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, is being fitted out for service and will be turned over to W. R. Grace & Co. She is known as ship No. 5 in the Los Angeles yard. No 4, recently completed, will be turned over to the Navy Department. Like the other four steel ships that have been completed at this port No. 5 is elaborately camouflaged.

With five ships completed work is being rushed on four more ships that are now in the water. Hull No. 10 will be launched in a few days.

Besides the steel ships Los Angeles has contributed two wooden ships now in service and two others that have been launched. The Yehama is of the Hough type and was the first wooden vessel launched for the government at this port. She and the Bellota, a Ferris type, built by the Chandler Shipbuilding Company, have been turned over to the Matson Navigation Company for the "jitney" run to island ports.

Another yard that is building ships for the government will, in addition to its contract for cargo ships, build a fleet of tankers for the Emergency Fleet Corporation. Making preparations to handle these additional contracts the Southwestern Shipbuilding Company added several hundred men to its payroll yesterday at its new plant at East San Pedro.

The company is installing one of the finest shipyards on the Pacific Coast the entire plant being a model of permanency and efficiency. The contract for the tankers is an aftermath of the inspection of the new plant several months ago by Charles M. Schwab. As a result of Schwab's offer while here James Talbott, general managers of the company, is now on his way back from Washington after arranging the details of a contract that is understood to cover eight big tankers in addition to the ten cargo ships already contracted.

STEADY PATRIOTISM.

The banks report that the demand for War Stamps continues, even has increased. To some extent this is due, perhaps, to the recent victories, which have stimulated people to an expression of patriotism; but the steady patriots are those that buy continually, whether battles are won or lost.

THE VENOMOUS HUN.

How futile and malicious the revenge that the Germans try to take on their victors! Fleeing from towns they leave bombs and gas bags scattered about; and if each of these infernal machines killed a man the result would have not the slightest effect on the outcome of the war. But the Hun is brutal and savage down to the depths of whatever it is in him that serves for a soul. He is a vicious winner and a venomous loser.

MONEY IN THE BANK.

America is still a pretty solid country in a financial way. It is almost two years since a national bank has closed its doors in this country. The day has entirely passed when people have to worry about the stability of our moneyed institutions. New York is the greatest banking and shipping center of the world and is destined to remain so. This greatness attaches to the financial system of the whole country and establishes it with the solidity of the rock of ages.

M'ADOO RESTS.

Secretary McAdoo is always and everywhere a busy man, so busy that he is said to have acquired the habit of eating breakfast with the telephone in his hand. Naturally he grew tired and needed rest. He came to California and now he is an energetic as a well-shaken champagne bottle. But the point is that, having returned home, he immediately showed his gratitude to the West Coast by annulling the order which interfered with export shipping. Permits will now be issued for through bills of lading via the Pacific Coast. If more government officials would come to California to rest they would probably not only regain their "pep," but acquire an intimate understanding of conditions on this Coast and be more willing to facilitate needed commercial and economical measures.

WALTER J. BALLARD.

It was a tireless worker for the advancement of his fellow-men that was laid to rest yesterday when friends bade farewell to Walter J. Ballard, author, journalist, statistician and business expert. He was called to many important duties in this world, and his response was always wholehearted and effective. As a master of figures he won a national fame; and as an advocate of sound political and economic principles he was the coadjutor and trusted adviser of some of our country's greatest statesmen. He did much of his best work as a writer for The Times, in whose circles his memory is cherished; and his help will be missed in several of the great publication offices of the United States. He was the beloved father of a family of whom he was proud and who live to do honor to his name. It can be truly said of Mr. Ballard what cannot be so truly said of many men—that his life was a well-rounded success.

THE COUNTRY CHURCH.

In religious circles there is some alarm over the apparent decline of the country church. In days not long ago it was the rallying place for the widespread community. On Sundays it could be located by the cloud of dust that hung overhead and the hitching rail which girdled it was lined two or three deep with calm-faced equines tirelessly switching the flies from their glossy flanks. The good old side-bar buggy was there in all its glory and numbers. Through the windows could be heard the nasal tones of the preacher reciting the words of the good old hymn "Coronation," preparatory to the singing thereof by the congregation.

But now many of the country churches are well-nigh deserted and some have closed. The rising generation is not deeply concerned with their welfare. Possibly the young folks read the war news in the morning paper and then speed up the buzz wagon in the direction of the more luxurious city church, with its great organ, its orchestra and its magnificent singers—to say nothing of the $5000 orator in the pulpit. So it is that, while the city church may be crowded and prosperous, the little country church is struggling hard to keep its head above the surface and sometimes it shuts its eyes and goes down.

In the finals it may be a matter of the survival of the fittest. There will be churches where the people decide them to be necessary, and they will be units more of works than of faith. But there is a sweetness and fragrance to the memory of the homely little country chapel that neither time nor any wind of circumstance may entirely dispel.

'Tis Sunday. A weary, whiskered traveler arrives from the desert. "Shave," he hoarsely whispers to the hotel clerk, and rushes to his room, puts on a nightshirt and climbs into bed. Up the fire escape comes a man wearing green whiskers and disguised as a lineman for the telephone company. He enters the window, pulls down all the blinds. "Shush!" says he. It is the barber.

'Tis Sunday. Willie Smith, aged 6, goes to the drug store and says: "We have no soap in the house. May we buy a cake of soap?" The kindly druggist looks up and down the street and, thinking the coast is clear, sells Willie a cake of soap. Policeman 660 is looking over the rear transom and sees the sale. He rushes to the nearest alarm box. Clang! Clang! comes the wagon, and the druggist is dragged off to jail.

'Tis Sunday. Mrs. Mary Jones goes to the home of the nearest provision man and says: "Won't you open your store and sell me some fruit or some meat or some bread?" And the provision man replies: "Fruit is spoiling in my store. Meat is growing aged in my ice box. Bread is growing stale on my shelves, but if you were starving to death I could not sell you a thing. If you are still alive, come around tomorrow."

'Tis Sunday. All right, says the patient reader. I'll bite. 'Tis Sunday; where? Berlin, Germany? Plymouth, Mass., in 1640? Wrong. The place is Los Angeles, Cal. The time is the present, maybe next Sunday if the police are told to enforce the True-Reeves-Criswell Sunday law now on the books.

For the police did not enforce the law last Sunday. And, by crackey, as they say up in Vermont when they get all het up, by crackey, the blue law trio were angry when they got to the City Hall last Monday morning and found that the jails were not bulging full of Sunday-law violators, that food and drink had been sold last Sunday, and to all intents and purposes the inhabitants had continued to live and laugh as usual. "Send for the grand vizier of the police," said the blue-law trio in their best blue-law manner. "By the beard of the prophet and the mustaches of the Kaiser, what means this, Chief?" the trio demanded to know.

"Oh, protector of the barbers," replied the Chief. "I durst not arrest even yon Main-street tailor for sewing on a button. The populace won't stand for it. Hear them murmur without the palace gates? They are crying to keep their Sunday bread, butter and meat and they won't have it taken from them. Oh, woe is me, oh, guardians of the Council. Oh, woe is me! A Spring-street florist sold last Sunday two bunches of flowers for a wedding," continued the vizier. "Awful!" said a Councilman. "A dairy lunch man sold six eggs." "Horrible!" said another Councilman. "A photographer took a family group picture." "Terrible," said a third solon. "Off with their heads!" cried the blue-law trio. "Come out of it," said the grand vizier. "Off-with-their heads stuff has gone out of fashion." "What shall we do with our little pet blue law? For surely the barbers like it," said the trio. "Oh, makers of the blue law, even all of the barbers like it not," replied the Chief. "They scrap among themselves over it. Those who work downtown among the bazaars like it. Those who dwell out near the tents of the citizens say the bearded ones cried aloud to heaven in their misery as they tried to shave last Sunday with rusty razors. These barbers want to keep open. You have pleased them not." "What shall we do with our little pet law, oh, Viz?" said the lawmakers. Said he: "Boys; can it."

Now this "Arabian Nights" version of the confusion at City Hall last Monday morning contains more truth than might be supposed. For, while the city prosecutors sat back waiting for the Councilmen to repeal the blue law, the Mayor and the Chief of Police tried to discover a way out of the tangle. Even the blue-law trio, peevish and perverse, heard the murmurings without the gates of the City Hall and began to think that perhaps the law was not perfect and might be amended. But, like the perfectly-good-looking dog the little boy found in the alley, it can never be amended so that it will work and please. It was a dead dog. It is a dead law. No, gentlemen of the Council, you are in wrong, and if you have any sense of humor you will put on your specs, read the law for the first and last time, have a good laugh, throw it out of the window and get ready for the fourth Liberty Loan.

And in the meantime the citizens might do a little missionary work among the Councilmen to speed the day when the law is repealed. As long as this foolish but dangerous law stays on the books the following Councilmen, whose addresses and telephone numbers are given, are responsible:

F. L. Cleveland, 2815 Pasadena avenue. East 294.

"The End of a Perfect Day."

GOUGH AND THE CAVALRY.

After marking time for almost two years the British cavalry is afield again. Dispatches from the front relate that the intrepid British Light Horse has fully sustained the traditions of that famous arm of the service. The exploits of the Peninsular and Crimean campaigns have been duplicated in Picardy. Furious charges by daredevil riders broke up Hun rear-guard formations and made possible the rapid advance of the Allied infantry. Even the dreaded machine guns were unable to check the wild rushes of the British Lancers. Once the Huns were out of the trenches, they scattered before the British horse like leaves in a tempest. Those charges did much to shake the morale of the German infantry, for it is a tradition of the Low Countries that no infantry regiment, scattered by one charge of the Lancers, has ever been able to stand before another.

Fate is always lavish when it is kind. English-speaking peoples will read with heightened pleasure of the brilliant exploits of the British cavalry because Gen. Gough, commander of the ill-starred Fifth Army, that was overwhelmed before Cambrai, is in command of the British Light Horse and has himself taken part in the furious charges which the German shock troops were not able to withstand. Gen. Gough is a new Prince Rupert. He proved his valor in the fighting at Ypres and in the first battle of the Somme. As a cavalry leader he has no superior in the Allied armies; his impetuous bravery inspires his troopers with an enthusiasm that death alone can extinguish. The disaster to his Fifth Army in March was due in part to the fact that many of the units refused to retreat before superior numbers, but held their posts fighting to death. For three days after the German advance, sections of the Fifth Army still occupied positions that they had held at the beginning, refusing to surrender and fighting in the forlorn hope that their comrades, reinforced, might fight their way back.

Gen. Gough was relieved of his infantry command by reason of that disaster; but Gen. Haig, with the approval of Gen. Foch, gave him an opportunity to retrieve his fallen fortunes at the head of his old cavalry division. Dispatches telling of the wild charges of daredevil British horse reveal how gallantly his men fought to restore the prestige of their intrepid chief. Gen. Gough represents the fighting Irish. It is the very lack of prudence that makes him the idol of the British horse. The thrilling exploits of the British cavalry under his command have wiped away the last stain of the defeat before Cambrai.

LLOYD GEORGE'S APPRECIATION.

"America already has a powerful, large and victorious army in France, the equal of the best troops," said David Lloyd George, Prime Minister of Great Britain, in his speech before the House of Commons last week.

And again, "Everyone knows how gallantly the Americans fought. They fought with a trained skill that no one had a right to expect. Their officers showed a skilled knowledge of the management of the men under trying conditions for which one could hardly hope from men who had not had a year's experience in war."

These are gracious tributes with which the United States may be frankly pleased. They are words which bring with them an intimate personal thanksgiving in the heart of every American citizen. We have a right to be proud of these, our men, who have so obviously mastered the technique of war in a great and holy cause, albeit so short a time ago war was abhorrent to them and far removed from their ken.

We have been called a braggart nation, boastful, flamboyant in our claims and promises; in short, we have been judged upon what was but the natural exuberance of youth. But in this war our men are no braggarts. They are shouldering their part, their responsibilities, their burdens with modesty and diligence. Our American officers are gladly co-operating with and serving under the generals of our Allies. Our men are not trying to hog the eclat of victory. Full well this nation knows how our gallant Allies bore the full burden of the great struggle for three long years before our aid was assured. Full well it knows that in the recent victories the Americans played but a part. But we do know and we are glad of the fact that wherever our men have been assigned positions, wherever they were called upon to fill the breach, they did, as Premier Lloyd George declared, fight gallantly with a trained skill that no one dared expect of them, fought like brave and acclimatized veterans, fought like heroes.

Our officers and men themselves have shown a marked modesty in their demeanor. Our high officers have been quick to ascribe victory to the Allied command, to the resourceful French, the dogged and determined British. They are the first to deprecate the exploitation of American victories at the expense of the Allies. But it is natural that American newspapers should enlarge upon the news of the American army in France; it is natural that, while our complete sympathies are with the whole of the Allies, our more immediate interest is in the deeds and gallantry of our own men. This is not selfish provincialism; it is not braggart claim to superior eclat; but rather is it a type of national modesty which makes us voice our pride that these, our men, have done so well, are indeed "the equal of the best troops in the world," as Lloyd George said for us. For these men of ours who have so far exceeded the highest expectations are such recently-trained novices at the grim game of war. We dared not expect that they would comport themselves like trained veterans; we scarcely dared expect that they would withstand the fierce onslaught of highly-experienced German divisions, by which they had been deliberately selected as the weakest point in the Allied line. But they did all of these things. They not only held their own, but drove the enemy back, maintained their ground, consolidated their positions with the same gallantry, the same strategic skill, the selfsame morale that our inured allies evinced on other fronts and other fields.

"And," said Lloyd George, "the American army is growing every day. There will be no break in the increase of that army until America has an army not far short, if at all inferior, in numbers to the German army itself."

And since our American army has proved its quality as well as its quantity; since it is indeed equal to the best troops in the world, there is no longer any doubt of the ultimate outcome of the war. Again to quote the British Premier, "Germany never again can maintain the same number of divisions in the field that she had. She is now begging for Austrian support; the German peoples and their allies are beginning to be disillusioned."

And it is the American army that will hasten that disillusion more than anything else. So far the enemy has had but a taste of our quality, a mere hint of the type of man the American soldier is. But it was a palpable, unmistakable hint, admitting of no qualifying hopes. "Everybody knows how gallantly the Americans fought," said Lloyd George. "And the American army is growing every day."

Yes, we are proud of our American men, and proud that this nation may be the last, but by no means the least, factor in bringing the Hun to reason and meting out that punishment without which the war will have been fought in vain.

"'I think,' said the second maid, 'I think the name of it is cosmetics.'"—[Washington Star.

HUMAN LIGHTNING BUGS

BY HENRY CHRISTEEN WARNACK.

Every American who tries to realize his share in the great war does something for his country, but more for himself. Every man in the world is confronted by the order of "work or fight" for the term of his natural life, whether he recognizes the fact or not.

If the war does not bring us face to face individually with a new and strict economy in placing our forces we are failing the greatest opportunity that ever came to our generation. Now is the time to cease evasion and be direct, the time when one class of negligents must think what they are doing and the other class must do what they are thinking.

Mental and moral slackers are under arrest by order of the grand commander of the age. Effectives alone may hope to survive the withering fire of those who are fighting the world's battles.

How to hurl the dynamo within the self at everything outside of self is one problem of man, but how to set off the dynamo within himself by enthusiasm of thought and nobility of purpose, by a correlation of all forces and a perfect digestion of all experiences is just as much a problem in the realization of glorified livingness.

If you ever saw a lightning bug flashing his jeweled body through the velvet draperies of a southern night you have observed a fine example of the method of life. With folded wing and luminous body concealed the firefly demonstrates correlation, and when spreading wings reveal his lambent glow he illuminates the process of co-ordination. So man sleeps by night and works by day, has his flashes of inspiration, earned and developed by long periods of toil, has his moments of revelation wherein he discerns a fair ideal and his years of consecration to the envisioning experience.

Coming back to the practical side of what the war can do to help us all in self-control, increased potency and finer endeavor, it is easy to see how, if we obey the rules of the war in spirit as well as in letter, we will find ourselves in the way of a wholesome reconstruction. If we begin with daylight-saving and dawn finds us in the tub or under the shower; if 7 o'clock finds a man bathed, fed, shaved and shined, and if 8 o'clock finds him at office, store or shop in this alert and prepared state, the service of the worker is going to register 50 per cent higher than it did in those days when people sat up late and got up accordingly.

If we obey the food rules of the war savers we are only obeying the laws of health, and while saving food we are preserving our digestion and hardening the will through the practice of self-control. Nothing softens the will so much as overindulgence. The lap of luxury is the cradle of weaklings. Easy living lengthens the distance from hand to brain until paralysis of the will grips the ego and a living dead man is incumbering the earth and sapping the strength of his friends.

Pictures of the mind are not mental laws. Imagination of itself is a flame without heat. It is a knowledge of the word and not its utterance that gives it significance. Highly imaginative books have passed as swiftly as the meteor from a dying star, while humbler books have lived the ages through because they spoke the truth. If we can find the way of life where knowing replaces believing and where doing puts an end to dreaming we will find a reality greater than faith and a presence brighter than dreams. Disappointment is a failure to meet with mental speculation, and where knowing takes the place of guessing and we plan instead of speculate there can be no disappointment, for we will to do where others hope to have.

The will to live is the first and strongest motive of the ego; but the way to live, which is more important, is sometimes far from comprehension. It is this vital problem of self-identity with environment and purpose to which the war should arouse us as individuals to the end that we may meet our obligations in this war and in all life.

WILSON SHOWS THE WAY.

We have to thank President Wilson for a valuable lesson as to the right method of handling Germany when she threatens cruelty or perpetrates it. Germany recently demanded from the United States the surrender of a dangerous German spy, Von Rintelen, who is known to be a friend of the Kaiser, and intimated that if he were not released in exchange for an unimportant and dubious American prisoner there would be reprisals.

President Wilson was not to be bullied in this fashion. The American government has replied that, if Germany ill treats Americans in her hands, this "will inevitably be underatood to invite similar reciprocal action on the part of the United States with respect to the great number of German subjects in America."

This is a plain hint. President Wilson can find fifty hostages for any American who is ill treated, and American opinion will unflinchingly support its government in any action taken. If only a little of President Wilson's spirit could have been instilled into some of our British officials and politicians, what suffering for our hapless prisoners might have been averted!—[London Mail.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

THE KAISER'S DREAM.

The Kaiser dreamed that he would reign from Naples to Alaska; his subjects would be found in Maine and up in Athabasca. He'd ride in state through Boston town and swagger in Toronto, and see the peoples kneeling down—where has the vision gone to? Oh, Wilhelm ate some liverwurst one night before retiring and saw himself in splendor burst upon a world admiring. He had a throne set up in Cork, another one in Lansing; he saw, through Rochester, N. Y., his retinue advancing. The nations bowed to hail their lord, revered his two-faced eagle; he gave the vanquished as reward a smile sublime and regal. Oh, Wilhelm ate some rancid cheese before he sought his slumbers; a lot of batty dreams like these he had in endless numbers. If you eat goose before you sleep, and dream you're Alexander, you say, "Hereafter I will keep away from goose and gander." But Wilhelm thought his dreams were sane and not the fruit of sausage; and so he spoiled with bloody rain the age of peace, the boss age. May he be reigning on a rock when this grim war is ended, some lonely crag where seagulls flock and all the woes are blended.

EXPERIMENTAL SEWER PLANT.
Tri-Cities may Soon Overcome Vexing Problem.
Experiments Conducted During Past 18 Months.
Alhambra City Commissioners Authorize Contract.
[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
ALHAMBRA, Aug. 13.—The City Commission has authorized the City Manager and City Engineer to enter into a contract with the L. C. Brent Company for the establishment here of an experimental plant to determine the merits of a new method of treating sewage as applied to the requirements of the three cities of Pasadena, South Pasadena and Alhambra, which are to join in the project. The cost of the proposed station will be about $7500, which will be borne by the cities affected in the proportion of five-sixths by Pasadena, one-sixth by South Pasadena and one-sixth by Alhambra. The plant is to have a capacity of 50,000 gallons of sewage daily, is to be erected on the Pasadena sewer farm south of San Gabriel, and work on it is to be started not later than October 1.
For the past eighteen months the engineering departments of the three cities have been experimenting with the known activated sludge process of sewage treatment, the active principle of which is the diffusion of air through the matter, for purposes of comparison with the well-known Imhoff tank treatment, which employs a water-settling process to reach the same result. The Trent people claim to have discovered some new angles of the sludge treatment which will greatly reduce the cost of establishing a treatment system while giving equally satisfactory results, and it is for the purpose of testing the plan that the experimental plant is to be built.
Comparative estimates of cost of the various processes show $380,000 for the Imhoff, $140,000 for the activated sludge and $63,400 for the Trent, which would indicate a saving of something like $15,000 a year in interest charges on the initial investment in sewage disposal by the three cities.
The marriage of Corp. William K. Carr, Eighth Company, Coast Artillery, stationed at Fort Rosecrans, and Miss Esta Kite of South Pasadena occurred at her home Saturday evening. Rev. Milton S. Runkle, rector of the Episcopal Church in Alhambra, officiated, and a company of about fifty people were in attendance. Corp. Carr is of an old Alhambra family and one of the best-known young men of the town, serving for five years as teller in the new National Bank of Alhambra prior to going into the army service. His ten-day furlough will be spent on a wedding trip to points of interest in Southern California.

EXPERIMENTAL SEWER PLANT.

Cities may Soon Overcome Vexing Problem.

Experiments Conducted During Past 18 Months.

Alhambra City Commissioners Authorize Contract.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ALHAMBRA, Aug. 13.—The City Commission has authorized the City Engineer and City Engineer to enter into a contract with the L. C. Smith Company for the establishment here of an experimental plant for determining the merits of a new method of treating sewage as applied to the requirements of the cities of Pasadena, South Pasadena and Alhambra, which are now in the project. The cost of the proposed station will be about $40,000, which will be borne by the cities affected in the proportion of 50 per cent by Pasadena, one-sixth by South Pasadena and one-sixth by Alhambra. The plant is to have a capacity of 50,000 gallons of sewage daily, and is to be erected on the Pasadena sewer farm south of San Gabriel, and work on it is to be started not later than October 1.

For the past eighteen months the sewering departments of the three cities have been experimenting with the so-called activated sludge process of sewage treatment, the active principle of which is the diffusion of air through the matter, for purposes of comparison with the well-known Imhoff tank treatment, which employs a water-settling process to obtain the same result. The Trent process claims to have discovered some of the defects of the sludge treatment which will greatly reduce the cost of establishing a treatment system while giving equally satisfactory results, and it is for the purpose of proving the plan that the experimental plant is to be built. Comparative estimates of cost of the various processes show $280,000 for the Imhoff, $140,000 for the activated sludge and $63,400 for the Trent, which would indicate a saving of something like $15,000 a year in interest charges on the initial investment in sewage disposal by the three cities.

The marriage of Corp. William K. Carr, Battery Company, Coast Artillery, stationed at Fort Rosecrans, and Miss Rata Kite of South Pasadena, occurred at her home Saturday evening. Rev. Milton S. Runkle, rector of the Episcopal Church in Alhambra, officiated, and a company of about fifty people were in attendance. Corp. Carr is of an old Alhambra family and one of the best-known young men of the town, having served five years as teller in the First National Bank of Alhambra before going into the army service. He is to-day furlough will be spent on a wedding trip to points of interest in Southern California.

Those looking to the regulation of the junk business in Alhambra was enacted by the City Commission at its meeting Monday night. A license tax of $50, payable yearly in advance, was made to apply to all junk dealers and junk buyers, and it was made obligatory that the purchase or sale of articles of any particular value be registered with the Chief of Police.

ALHAMBRAN WOUNDED.

Word has been received here that William Tetziaff, a very well-known Alhambra boy, was wounded in the recent fighting in France, and is now in one of the base hospitals in Paris. He is in the Hospital Corps, and was hurt while doing first-aid work on the field, a fragment of shell entering his thigh. Discovery of his condition was made by Roy Moran, another Alhambra boy, connected with the quartermaster's department of the air service, who, while stationed in Paris, volunteered to help in the hospital work, and on his first assignment encountered his friend from home.

SANTA ANA CANNERY STARTS ON LONG RUN.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Aug. 13.—A run which it is expected will continue to the end of the year will be begun on Thursday by the local plant of the California Packing Corporation.

A small force will start in on pimientos and chiles, but by the middle of next week it is expected the cannery will be operating under full steam, with 300 to 400 men and women employed. It is expected last year's pay roll of $3500 a week will be exceeded this season. The corporation has nearly 1100 acres of pimientos under contract and nearly 900 tons of chiles.

The cannery has already packed 4000 cases of refugee beans this year, as compared with 2500 cases last year.

WILL SEND EXHIBIT.

Riverside Chamber Decides to Make Showing at the Liberty Fair.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 13.—The arranging of a county exhibit at the California Liberty Fair at Los Angeles has been decided upon at a meeting here of the associated chambers of commerce of Riverside county. The action hinges only on the financing of the project by the Southern California Fair Association.

The undertaking was favored by prominent citizens from all parts of the county, on the ground that it would strengthen the county fair here by attracting exhibits that would later be sent to Los Angeles.

FRUIT ASSOCIATION MEETINGS SCHEDULED.

EIGHT PACKING-HOUSES REPRESENT INVESTMENT OF HALF-MILLION.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, Aug. 13.—Preparations are in full swing at the different orange and lemon packing-houses of the San Antonio Fruit Growers' Exchange for the annual meetings of the seven associations which comprise the exchange. They will show the aggregate value of the packing-houses, equipment and other properties of the different associations to be $500,000.

The eight packing-houses, which are located in Pomona, Claremont, La Verne, North Pomona and Walnut, have a combined capacity for packing 25,000 boxes of fruit a day.

The seven associations and the dates when the annual meeting will be held, as announced by Manager Knox of the San Antonio association today, follow:

Claremont Citrus Association, Wednesday, September 4.

Pomona Fruit Growers' Exchange, Thursday, September 5.

College Height Orange and Lemon Association, Claremont, Friday, September 6.

El Camino Citrus Association, Claremont, Friday, September 6.

Indian Hill Citrus Association, North Pomona, Saturday, September 7.

La Verne Orange and Lemon Growers' Association, September 17.

Walnut Fruit Growers' Association, Walnut, Saturday, September 21.

There are still about twenty cars of Valencias to be shipped by the Pomona association. The Reservoir-street packing-house opened Monday. It will be in operation about a month.

DRESS ON WAR BASIS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Aug. 13.—The girls of Redlands High School have decided that during war times the dress of schoolgirls should be on a war basis, and therefore middy blouses and dark skirts will be the rule the coming winter. It is not compulsory, except that the girls are going to see that every girl is made to feel that it is the thing to do. The movement is indorsed by Supt. Clement.

RANCHERS' VOLUNTEER FIRE FIGHTING FORCE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, Aug. 13.—Twenty-two ranchers of the Chino district have been banded together into a volunteer fire-fighting force as an additional protection to the large quantities of hay in the fields and in the barns. The county has provided the volunteers with an automobile trailer containing ten ten-and-one-half-gallon fire extinguishers and a supply of water bags, shovels and other fire-fighting apparatus. The trailer is kept at the George, Jr., Republic school, as there is always an automobile handy there.

R. A. Condee of Chino has been named fire boss of the district. Similar volunteers departments are being organized in other parts of San Bernardino county, and, as a result, it is expected that thousands of dollar's worth of crops and property will be saved each year.

IN THE SERVICE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SOUTH PASADENA, Aug. 13.—Late movements of local soldier boys are enumerated in the following:

William Carlton Henley has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the aerial service. Dr. Lyford Patterson is located near Liverpool, Eng., and connected with the medical department of the United States Army. Glen Garwood is stationed at Camp Fremont. Lieut. Franklin Paden is with the Two Hundred and Fifty-fifth Aero Squadron in France.

ARRESTED AT BORDER.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CALEXICO, Aug. 12.—Luis Busti, an Italian, and a Pullman porter whose run is from Calexico to Los Angeles, were picked up by the mounted line guards during last night, while attempting to cross into the United States after spending the evening in Mexicali. Both are being held at Camp Beacom while their cases are being investigated.

LOS ANGELES MEN HURT.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

POMONA, Aug. 13.—Felix Actico and John Druetti, both of Los Angeles, were hurt last night in a collision with one of the Clark bus line stages. As a result the former is in the Pomona Valley Hospital with one arm severed and suffering from internal injuries from which he may die. The men were driving a car towards Los Angeles after attending an Italian picnic near Riverside. Druetti was not seriously hurt.

BALLOON SCHOOL TROOPS GET WEEKLY DAY OF REST.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ARMY BALLOON SCHOOL (Arcadia) Aug. 13.—Soldiers at the Army Balloon School are to have one day of rest each week after this date. The work at the school has progressed to such an extent that it was decided to cut out the Sunday duty and give every man possible an opportunity to rest on that day. Only necessary duty will be performed hereafter on Sunday, such as guard duty, kitchen police and others that are an everyday affair at all army camps.

The school is fast approaching the condition when a visiting day for all civilians can be established. The valuable government property is rapidly being put under cover in warehouses, and when that is complete, it is understood a day will be set aside each week when the public will be admitted. There is some talk of having a bi-weekly visiting day at first. For the time being, though, the regulations governing visitors have been made more strict. Persons calling at the camp to visit any particular man must register their names and addresses, then go with an escort to the Y.M.C.A. building, where all visiting is done.

SUNDAY SERVICE.

Services at the school Sunday evening were conducted by Dr. R. A. Hadden, formerly of Camp Kearny, who now has charge of all religious work in the camps in the Puget Sound country. Special music was furnished by Miss Richards, Welch vocalist from Los Angeles, who sang several numbers, which were well received by the men.

Secretary Stewart of the Y.M.C.A. went to San Diego yesterday to attend a general conference of all Y.M.C.A. secretaries in the vicinity of Los Angeles.

Daniel W. Simms, Mayor of Arcadia, was principal speaker at yesterday's liberty praise service, held in front of the Arcadia Presbyterian Church. The community singing was directed by Prof. Hasler of Pasadena, who has been leading at preceding meetings. Refreshments were served by members of the congregation.

BAND MAKES HIT.

The Monrovia Municipal Band made a hit with the soldiers by its concert Saturday night. The programme lasted more than an hour and a half. The audience included several hundred autoists who had been attracted by the announced programme. Following the regular concert, the band led the community singing, in which more than 2000 voices joined. The most popular song was "Over There," which had to be repeated several times.

A fund of $400 has been raised by the Monrovia Business Men's Association with which to finance entertainments and amusements for soldier guests of the city. The association's board of directors has selected as a pavilion site the lot offered by Dr. L. N. Wheeler in Lime avenue, about a block east of Myrtle. Construction of a dance floor has been begun, and it is planned to hold the first dance the evening of next August 16. The association's bylaws provide for other social affairs, which shall benefit the common interest of the members and their soldier guests.

"Hotel del Coronado" continues the center of attraction for military, aviation and naval people.—[Advertisement.

RAINS ROUT APHIS BUG.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BLYTHE, Aug. 12.—The whole Palo Verde Valley is rejoicing at showers that have dispelled the last doubt of aphis damage to the cotton crops. Recent governmental reports stated that the valley was singularly free from parasites that have infested other cotton regions, but the aphis was still in existence to the extent, it was believed, of less than 3 per cent.

STRONG BUYING STARTS A SHARP RISE IN PRICES.

Buoyant Undertone Rules During Day's Session in Wall Street.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Representative railroad issues again established a basis for the strength and breadth of today's stock market, advancing in a number of instances to highest prices of the year.

Their further upward progress was doubtless accelerated by the announcement that Director-General McAdoo is to confer with railway executives and stockholders at Washington tomorrow in expectation of adjusting the vexatious controversy arising from the prevailing form of rental contracts.

Buying of a substantial character was witnessed in dividend-paying rails such as Pacifics and coalers, while the increased strength of St. Pauls was thought to have its origin in matters more definite than crop prospects.

United States Steel managed to retrieve its 1½-point setback of the previous day, but canceled half its rally in the general realizing of the last hour, and rails also eased fractionally.

Tobaccos, some of the paper stocks and minor specialties were 1 to 2 points higher at their best, but motors reflected the influence of latest Federal regulations in that industry. Sales amounted to 355,000 shares.

Foreign exchange was mixed, rates on Italy hardening some 40 points, while Spanish exchange slumped in the absence of stabilizing measures.

Bonds, foreign and domestic, yielded a trifle after an early manifestation of strength. Sales, par value, aggregated $5,775,000. Old United States bonds were unaltered on call.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Mercantile paper unchanged. Sterling, sixty-day bills, 4.75; commercial, sixty-day bills on banks, 4.75¾; commercial, sixty-day bills, 4.72½; demand, 4.76; cables, 4.77½. Bar silver and Mexican dollars unchanged. Time loans strong and unchanged. Call money strong, unchanged.

BUYING CROWD SNAPS UP GOOD MINE SHARES.

LOCAL EXCHANGE OIL LIST ALSO KEENLY INTEREST INVESTORS.

A buying crowd was out yesterday and activities on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange made the board a big center of investment attraction, especially in the afternoon, when a new record or two was made in the mining list.

Interest in the future of several stocks was keen, and this, in spite of the fact that the day's trading was below the summertime normal, made both forenoon and afternoon sessions attractive to buyers and sellers alike.

In the oil list, a reflection of the recent advance in the price of gasoline was discerned by several brokers in the demand for shares in proven companies, companies with good prospects and big, standard corporations. Holders of securities in the latter class, however, kept a firm grip on their paper and the call for such stocks as General Petroleum and Union Oil was greater than the supply in sight. Of General Petroleum, only sixty shares were offered at the closing price, 104.00, a 1-point gain over the opening. General Petroleum preferred was also in demand and but fifty shares were to be had at 95.00. Seventeen shares of Union Oil sold at 104.87½, both the opening and the closing figure.

In the mining list, Boss Gold was the feature. It opened at 37 and closed strong at 40. This marked an advance of five points over Monday's close. A total of 2500 shares changed hands at fluctuating prices throughout the day. The rise was attributed by brokers to the belief among miners and investors generally that a new era because of the war and its demand for metals is at hand.

Liberty Bonds all during yesterday's trading again were in strong demand and fully two-thirds of the day's turn-over was in the war issues. The denomination in chief favor was the 3½'s, but the other two issues also found a ready sale.

Advices was received here by local brokerage houses yesterday that resolutions calling for payment of a bonus by the government for every ounce of gold produced were adopted by the Resolutions Committee of the American gold conference at Reno, for discussion today.

Under the plan, the War Industries Board will be asked to determine the amount of the bonus to be paid, basing its estimate upon the increased cost of gold production now as compared with 1914. It was unofficially estimated by mining men that the cost of producing gold is 60 per cent greater than in 1914, which would call for a bonus of about $12 an ounce.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

The produce market was steady to firm and all commodities were in fairly good demand. The market was considerably weaker than on the preceding day but strengthened somewhat before both sessions and closed about normal.

In spite of the heavy offerings of peaches and grapes prices on good stock held about steady, with the exception of a few shipments which were of ordinary quality. Peaches were offered at a wide range of 1.25 to 1.75 per lug according to quality and conditions. Good local peaches moved freely at 1.50 per lug, while some fancy large size McClure's went as high as 2.25.

Tomatoes were steady at 6 to 8 cents per pound for local varieties, with offerings active all week. Thompson seedless from the Imperial Valley and Fresno districts sold at from 5 to 6 cents per pound. The local grape season for table and wine purposes is now starting, with eastern stock holding strong.

Owing to the heavy supply of other fruits the demand for early fall varieties of apples was very slow. Yellow Gravensteins sold at 2.75 to 3.00 per packed box and Alexanders 40 to 45 cents less. The movement of these varieties was light and prices showed a tendency to weaken slightly toward the close. Dealers are looking forward to a good demand for apples for Oak Grove, Tenaja and Beaumont in a few weeks, when other fruits are not plentiful.

The season has closed for apricots and the last of the local supplies have been cleaned up. A few nectarines arrived and moved out quickly at about 4 cents per pound.

Owing to the wet weather of the past week the local consumption of tomatoes very materially and prices declined considerably on the large-sized melons and with slight gradual reductions in proportion.

Prices held about steady, with a slightly stronger tendency at the close, but not generally with only a few exceptions.

The early Burbank potatoes from Tulare were on the market and of interest to the local buying. The stock appears to be somewhat coarse and dirty and does not compare favorably in appearance with the bright clean local White Rose grown in sandy soil, although some of the northern potatoes to offer later. The market closed firm. Stockton Burbanks sold at 1.50 per 100 pounds, while the best home-grown stock was 2.75, with a few sacks for hotel trade at 3.00.

There were few material changes in the small vegetable list, with the exception of cucumbers, which declined from 10 to 15 cents per lug.

MRS. STOCKER WINS IN COURT.

Gets Letters to Administer Late Husband's Estate.

Citation Against Her Fails to Impress Judge.

Will Gives Fifty Thousand to Nieces in the East.

Coincident with the filing of her petition in the probate court yesterday for letters of administration and the probate of the will of her late husband, Harry R. Stocker, Mrs. Clara Baldwin Stocker appeared before Judge James C. Rives in answer to a citation requiring her to show cause why certain property alleged to be in her possession and claimed as a part of Mr. Stocker's estate, should not be turned over to Frank Bryson, public administrator and special administrator of the estate.

Mrs. Stocker made her debut in court and found it unique and interesting. She declared that Judge Rives had a very nice court.

Mr. Bryson alleged that Mrs. Stocker held in trust cash, bonds, securities and real estate valued at $80,000. Mrs. Stocker testified that Mr. Stocker had given her cash and bonds worth about $45,000 before he died, and that it was her property. Judge Rives dismissed the citation, and Mrs. Stocker departed smilingly from the court.

In her petition for letters of administration, Mrs. Stocker valued her husband's estate at "about $10,000." The legatees and devisees under the will are Mrs. Stocker, the widow, and three nieces who reside in the East. The latter are Anna Stocker, Ethel Langhorne Wister and Anne Wister Barclay. The nieces were bequeathed $50,000, and Mrs. Stocker was given the residue of the estate.

TOO FAST FOR 'EM.

Asserting that four men had attempted to rob him on the Downey road near Bell station early yesterday morning, J. Cipriano of No. 1504 Woodside avenue, reported the facts to the Sheriff's office. He claimed he outdistanced his pursuers in his automobile.

SEES MAKING OF WORLD PORT.

Naval Reserve base and from there the party walked on up the pier to the Submarine Base. Then the party went by boat for a trip around the harbor, ending at the plant of the Southwestern company, where President Marco H. Hellman, Vice-President W. F. Howard and Manager Hollywood were hosts.

The business men who had seen Director-General Schwab and General Manager Pies in action found in Mr. Rosseter a man of the same caliber—a big man, strictly business.

In the party which met Mr. Rosseter and accompanied him on his tour of inspection were E. W. Carr of the Union Oil Company, J. L. Quinn of the Standard Oil Company, Chief Harbor Engineer Ludlow, Don Fuglit, port warden; Louis Sentous, French Vice-Consul; Secretary Wade of the Harbor Commission, Fred Gregson, traffic manager of the Los Angeles Jobbers' Association; M. M. Rathbun and Secretary Frank Wiggins of the Chamber of Commerce, M. de Brabant, assistant general traffic manager of the Salt Lake route; Stoddard Jess, John B. Elliott, collector of the port; General Superintendent McMillan of the Pacific Electric, C. F. Van Dewater and Thomas R. Merrell of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce, Fire Chief Eley, A. P. Fleming, chairman of the Harbor Committee of the Chamber of Commerce and H. H. McLaurin, local agent of Grace & Co. and the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, long a friend and associate of Mr. Rosseter, and members of the City Council.

Mr. Rosseter will leave at 2 o'clock this afternoon for an inspection of the harbor facilities at San Diego, accompanied by his assistant, Hill Blackett.

RED CROSS SHIPMENT FOR FRANCE, BELGIUM.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

GLENDALE, Aug. 13.—A shipment containing 1867 articles of clothing for the destitute civilians of France and Belgium, making a total of 5023 garments shipped from this department since February, was sent out this morning by the conservation department of the Glendale branch of the Junior Red Cross. This is the largest shipment so far sent out by this department and represents the volunteer work of about 300 women, according to the chairman, Mrs. Harry V. Brown. Mrs. Brown's husband, Dr. Harry V. Brown, has volunteered for medical service, and has left for the front.

RANDALL'S EARS TO BURN BROWN

Montaville Flowers will Show Congressman Up.

Ninth District to Have Big Meeting Tonight.

Fickert to Tour South with Dozen Speeches.

BY THE WATCHMAN.

Indications are that Korbel Hall, First and State streets, Boyle Heights, will be crowded tonight when Montaville Flowers, Republican candidate for Congress in the Ninth District, will fire real shrapnel at Charles H. Randall, the incumbent. It will be the first political speech Mr. Flowers has delivered during the campaign, and it is being looked forward to with considerable interest.

The charge has often been made that Randall is a pacifist and has tried to block President Wilson's war programme from the start. Mr. Flowers will prove the charge tonight by producing the Congressional Record. Randall has vainly attempted to excuse his wishy-washy attitude, and may have convinced some people through the clever camouflage he has employed.

Mr. Flowers said yesterday that of the eight important war measures presented to Congress at the behest of President Wilson, Randall voted against all but one. Remarks made on the floor of Congress by Randall clearly show his attitude against the war, and Mr. Flowers believes the incumbent is an unsafe man to represent the Ninth District, or any other.

Reports from all parts of the district show that the political strength of Mr. Flowers is gaining rapidly. Leading Republicans are convinced that he is a formidable candidate and that enough loyal Republicans and patriotic citizens will support him to land for him the nomination.

Yesterday, Mr. Flowers received the following letter from J. W. Crabtree, secretary of the National Educational Association of the United States:

Mr. Montaville Flowers, Monrovia, Cal.

My Dear Flowers:

It pleases me to know that you are a candidate for a seat in Congress. Knowing as I do of your early struggles and of all the hardships with which you had to contend in getting your education, and knowing as I do of your present success in the educational and business world, of your remarkable ability and your loyalty as an American, and your devotion to worthy causes, I cannot help writing you and wishing that you may secure the place.

I want you to win in this campaign, for if you are in Congress we can depend upon you to be a leader in educational matters in Congress, to bring about the vast changes and developments of national education after the war.

Very sincerely yours,
[Signed] J. W. CRABTREE.

Fickert to Tour South.

Charles M. Fickert, Republican candidate for Governor, will commence a speaking tour of the south next Monday, when he will make twelve speeches, concluding with a big meeting at Elks' Hall, Santa Ana. Mr. Fickert will tell his audiences about the Mooney fiasco and also his stand upon the question of the administration's extravagance.

To Indorse Candidates.

The Executive Committee of the Association for Betterment of Public Service will hold a special meeting this morning to indorse a candidate for the Sixty-second Assembly District and the Seventy-first District. In the Sixty-second district there are four Republican candidates. They are George Wickham, Peter F. Roller, J. W. Deyoe and Clyde W. Holbrook. In the Seventy-first district the candidates are David L. Burke, Paul J. Otto, Henry E. Carter, W. F. Peffey. The purpose of the association is to indorse candidates who are pledged to a programme of the strictest economy. All must go on record in opposition to the unnecessary commissions. Tonight Senator George Cartwright will address a mass meeting at the Echo Park Playground Clubhouse in the interest of the Association.

Judge Indorses Bordwell.

Judge Stanley A. Smith of the Superior Court of Sierra county, one of the oldest judges of the State in point of service, has written as follows to Judge Bordwell of this city:

"I shall take pleasure in voting for you at the coming primary election,

HIS FRANKNESS COSTS DEARLY.

Speeder Tells Judge How He Almost Escaped—Gets Thirty Days.

W. D. Valentine, a chauffeur, paid for his refreshing frankness in Justice Summerfield's court yesterday, where he was charged with driving a motorcycle seventy-two miles an hour on the Long Beach boulevard. The court gave him a straight jail sentence of thirty days.

"The only reason I did not go faster," he said, "was because the carburetor was not working right and also because I had a weak front tire. I saw the motorcycle cop, all right, and I would not be in court if the machine had been right."

His excuse to the court was that he was in a hurry to get home.

recognizing and appreciating your staunch party loyalty and your superior fitness as compared with other candidates for the important office sought.

"I trust that the voters of the State may be alive to the importance of nominating you to the responsible position involved."

For Southern Candidate.

George H. Peck yesterday said if the people do not want San Francisco to "hog" all the State offices they had better vote for Gov. Stephens. "San Francisco has furnished the Governor at the last two elections and both United States Senators are from San Francisco," said Mr. Peck. "Surely these honors should be enough for San Francisco. It is our chance in the south and we should take advantage of it."

Political Notes.

Thomas Lee Woolwine, the south's Democratic candidate for Governor, will speak tonight at Santa Ana. He is popular in that section, due greatly to his work in connection with the settlement of the dispute between the beet growers and the refiners.

Sheriff Cline, candidate for reelection, has been indorsed by the Los Angeles branch of the National Independent Spiritualist Association.

Sherrell Osborne, son of the Congressman, is making a good showing in his race for Supervisor in the Third District. It is believed he will come out of the topnotchers at the primaries.

Joseph F. Chambers, candidate for Police Judge, who once held that position for ten or more years, is looked upon as one of the sure winners at the primaries. He made an enviable record on the bench.

J. O. Hayes, Republican candidate for Governor, yesterday denied that he ever said that the race is between himself and Mayor Rolph for the nomination. He declared the race is with Gov. Stephens.

ARRESTED IN NEVADA.

Men Accused of Burglarizing Automobile Supply Store Here are Captured.

Walter Shur and Gilbert Furrow were arrested yesterday at Las Vegas, Nev., by Sheriff Woodard, according to advices received here last night. The arrests were made at the instigation of Sheriff Cline on a warrant charging burglary in connection with the robbery of the H. A. Beasley automobile supply store at Washington street and Vermont avenue.

Both men are declared to have escaped to Nevada in their automobile after entering and looting the automobile store. Furrow is an ex-convict, according to the Sheriff's office.

JEFFRIES AS WITNESS.

Former Heavyweight Champion Testifies as to Good Character of a Defendant.

James J. Jeffries, former champion pugilist, was a character witness at the trial before Judge McCormick yesterday of Simon E. R. White, a Burbank farmer, charged with assault with intent to murder his brother-in-law, Samuel P. Spitler, on May 28 last. White's ranch adjoins the ranch of Jeffries at Burbank, and the former champion testified to the prevolus good character of his neighborhood.

Spitler is alleged to have been shot three times by White, from which wounds he recovered. The first trial of White resulted in a jury disagreement.

And $500 Fine.

GARNER GETS NINETY DAYS.

Stiff Jail Sentence is Given "Judge-Fixer."

Court Declares Present Law Unconstitutional.

Will Attack Judgment by Habeas Corpus.

"The judgment of the court is that you be fined the sum of $500 and that you be confined in the County Jail for a period of ninety days. The Sheriff will execute this committment."

In these words Judge Wood yesterday sentenced Guy S. Garner, local real estate expert, going beyond the statute enacted by the Legislature, which provides an imprisonment of five days in jail, a fine of $500, or both. Garner had been found guilty of contempt. It was shown by the evidence of Mrs. Ethel La Bonte and others that he had accepted $50 on the representation that he could influence the court in the proceedings involving the custody of Mrs. La Bonte's two young children.

The action of Judge Wood marks a distinct departure. He considered Garner's offense so serious that he declared the statute provided an inadequate punishment. Deputy Attorney-General Lewinsohn and Attorney Powell looked up the law, and after presenting the facts to the court yesterday, Judge Wood declared the statute unconstitutional or merely of an advisory nature. He said:

COURT'S RULING.

"The offense for which Mr. Garner has been convicted is one for which the punishment of five days in jail and $500 fine is entirely inadequate. The question is whether the enactment of the Legislature is binding upon this court. The power of the court to punish for contempt is inherent. That power is not derived from the Legislature; certainly the Legislature cannot take that power away. Could it do so, the judicial branch could be made almost subservient to the legislative branch. Today, as everybody knows, things can be done and are done which render the courts ineffectual. The courts are without power to remedy them, if this statute of limitations is good.

"My conclusion is that this limitation prescribed by statute is either entirely unconstitutional, or is merely advisory and need not be followed by this court.

"In any event, the five days prescribed will have to be served. The defendant will not escape whatever sentence the statute expressly prescribes.

"Mr. Garner, stand up. You have been convicted in this court of the offense of representing that you could corruptly influence this court, and, banking on this reputation, do other things of which you are charged in this affidavit. Have you any reason to state why the court should not impose sentence?"

Attorney Ashburne, repiying for his client, said he had stated the objections, which were that he had been denied due process of law in not having been given reasonable opportunity to prepare the defense, and, further, that the proceedings were without jurisdiction. The court complimented Mr. Ashburne for his endeavors in behalf of Garner, and also complimented Attorney Lewinsohn, who had been assigned by the court to try the case.

SEEKS HABEAS CORPUS.

Attorney Ashburne stated that he will petition the Appellate Court for a writ of habeas corpus and test the matter in that court. The writ, however, cannot be issued until Garner has served five days in jail.

Garner has been a familiar figure in courts as an expert on real estate values. He has a wife and two adopted children.

It is because of his familiarity with the courts and his speaking acquaintances with the officers of the court that Judge Wood considered his offense especially atrocious.

MATHEWS WANTS HELP.

Asks Public Service Body to Hire Special Counsel to Aid Him in Defending Suit.

Special Counsel Mathews of the Board of Public Service Commissioners yesterday notified that body that he is now preparing the defense in the action of the Inyo Development Company against the city, and recommended that Attorney S. B. Robinson, former deputy City Attorney, who handled a similar case for the city some years ago, be retained as special counsel. The matter is to be considered later in the week.

The suit filed by the Inyo Development Company deals with the soda factory on Owens Lake. The company charges that by taking water out of Owens River above the lake the aqueduct has lowered the water in the lake and made the company's soda plant practically useless. The case has been in the public eye for four or five years, and one very similar to it has been successfully fought by the city. The company wants both damages and an injunction to restrain the city from taking water out of the river above the lake.

OPEN SHOP FOR SALE OF EXQUISITE WARES.

BRANCH OF TIFFANY STUDIOS IS FILLED WITH ART GEMS OF MANY KINDS.

From the very facade of the building to the remotest corner the Tiffany studio is a place replete with interest.

It was the name that first arrested my attention. Was it truly a repository of Tiffany creations? I asked myself. The reply came instantly upon entering the place; it came in the architectural satisfaction felt, as the eye was struck by the noble lines of the structure; in the uplift to the senses bestowed by the vaulted ceiling above the mezzanine; in the manner in which the sunlight filtered through the ceiling lights, flitting bird-like among the Favrile creations and nesting restfully in some.

Again was the answer whispered, in the shadowy recesses of those upstairs rooms, where one felt impelled to linger amid the elegant and truly artistic surroundings, so disposed as to give the air of home—inviting, livable.

The display of Tiffany creations—that wondrous glass whose basis lies in gold, gold transmuted into beauty by an alchemy known only to the great artist and by him locked in secrecy—those articles of gold bronze embodying the loveliness of nature, pine boughs, blossoms, the tendrils of vines, and putting them to practical uses for home and office—light-holders in the forms of blossom-bells exhaling electrical effulgence, instead of perfume—unon all sides beauty and, yes, beauty plus, for it is beauty put to practical use! Furniture, too, and fabrics—everything, in fact, which could be put to the decorative purpose of creating luxurious home atmosphere, not whole storerooms filled with these things, but unusual examples which grasp and hold the imagination. A new home in Los Angeles for the housing of the world art so recognized by all civilized countries—this is the gift to our city in the just-opened Tiffany Studios at No. 363 South Hill street, with Roy C. Baille as expositor.

BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT LONG DELAYED.

WOMAN BRINGS IT AFTER TEN YEARS—COURT STRIKES IT FROM CALENDAR.

Mary Ann Younger waited a decade before she brought suit for breach of promise against Charles P. Edmed, now said to be in the army. Consequently when her suit came before Judge Wellborn yesterday and the facts showed that she was 45 and he 23 when they became engaged, and that she is now 58 and Mr. Edmed 36, Judge Wellborn declared the story incredible and highly improbable.

The court opened the case because Mr. Edmed had failed to file an answer within the stipulated time. He, however, struck the suit from the calendar, which will give the plaintiff an opportunity to renew it if she desires.

It appeared that after they became engaged, as she alleged, the couple came to Los Angeles and accumulated property by their joint endeavors. The property stands in the name of Mr. Edmed. The plaintiff asked the court to reform the deed and declare the property to be jointly owned.

Last January the plaintiff learned that Mr. Edmed had married Emma J. Borgesson.

ROBBER SUSPECT LOSES AUTO LICENSE.

The Police Commission yesterday revoked the chauffeur's permit held by Jack L. Walters, who is accused of having participated in the robbery of the Westlake branch of the Home Savings Bank. The application of Malleo Larini for transfer of his No. 2 restaurant liquor license from No. 141 North Main street to No. 500 West Sixth street was denied by the commission.

TO HEAR CHARGE THAT POLICE SOLD LIQUOR.

Early next week, it was announced yesterday, the Police Commission will hold a hearing in the case of Detective Sergeant Roy L. Shy and Patrolman A. D. Hurt, who were recently suspended by Police Chief Butler when charges were made against them that they sold forty-one gallons of whisky to Frank Pertusati, who conducts a restaurant at No. 1227 Palmetto street.

PLAN WORLD'S GREATEST HOME FOR DEFECTIVES.

A MAP and plans for a State institution for the feeble-minded, to be located in Southern California and to be the most complete of its kind in the world, were submitted to the board of trustees of the Pacific Colony yesterday by Dr. George Wallace, psychopathic expert of Wrentham, Mass., who has been in this section for some weeks acting in an advisory capacity to the colony.

The plans call for an institution to cost, when complete, at least $1,000,000 and to be able to accommodate over 2000 patients. The site, which will be selected from four or five locations under consideration, will have not less than 1000 acres, 125 acres being devoted to the buildings and their connecting grounds.

"I have no hesitation in saying that the board of the Pacific Colony has taken a step in advance of any other similar body in the world," said Dr. Wallace last night just before leaving the city to return East. "The entire project will be placed upon an educational basis, so that the inmates may receive all the possible training that their cases call for. The custodial care of the patients will be an entirely secondary matter."

The buildings, according to the plans agreed upon, are to be so segregated that all classes of morons (cases of mental retardation,) epileptics, delinquents, et al., may be cared for in separate groups. The psychopathic, supervisorial, educational and industrial activities thus will be carried on under the most favorable conditions.

The trustees of the Pacific Colony are now prepared to proceed to carry out the project as soon as the State Legislature makes the initial appropriation.

Bigamy Charge.

WOMAN'S SURRENDER MAY BARE "WAR-BRIDE" RING.

WHILE detectives from the District Attorney's office were searching for Mrs. Pearl Phifer Grossett, she voluntarily appeared in Justice Palmer's court yesterday to answer a charge of bigamy. It is believed that the investigation of the District Attorney's office may throw some light on a so-called war-bride ring which is being inquired into by the Federal authorities.

Mrs. Grossett told Justice Palmer that she had been induced to remain in hiding on the day set for her hearing. She is charged with having bigamously married Clarence Grossett, a soldier at Fort MacArthur. Mrs. Grossett is alleged to have been told by members of the so-called ring to leave the home of her husband at No. 356 Fifth street, San Pedro, last July. They informed her, it appears, that her marriage had been annulled. She married Mr. Grossett July 15. The date of hearing was set by Justice Palmer for September 4. She was released on her own recognizance.
